East Germans Allow Woman To Join Daughter in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A family whose efforts to reunite found a passage through Berlin's wall expects to meet here today after 25 years of anguished separation. Margaret Reuter's dream—one she thought could never be—is scheduled to come true at 6:15 p. m. when her mother steps down from a plane at Metropolitan Airport.

Helena Gruebnaue, 77, who hasn't seen her daughter in 25 years and never has met her five grandchildren, passed through a Berlin checkpoint into the West Tuesday.

She was one of the very few allowed to cross to West Berlin by East German authorities since they built the wall a year ago.

"I tell you, it's the answer to our prayers," said Mrs. Reuter, whose home is in Grass Lake, a Jackson, Mich., suburb.

"We've been hoping and praying for this and now it's really happened."

The release climaxed years of effort, helped in recent months by G. Vernon Leopold, a Detroit attorney who was once a refugee himself.

Leopold entered the case last May after the death of Mrs. Gruebnaue's husband, Jacob, in Mount Clemens, Mich. In Berlin to settle the estate, Leopold suggested he seek Mrs. Gruebnaue's release.

Leopold told his wife here by phone Tuesday that Mrs. Gruebnaue is "very relieved" to have made the passage.

Mrs. Gruebnaue, who lived in Michigan and Wisconsin from 1913 to 1937, "wanted to go back and see her people," her daughter explained.

"She just stayed too long."

Mrs. Gruebnaue lived in West Prussia until moving to Hartmannsdorf, near Dresden, after World War II.

Mother and daughter lost all contact during the war and, until Mrs. Gruebnaue reached her daughter from the Soviet sector after the war, Mrs. Reuter thought her to be dead.

Two Persons Injured in Auto Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Oshel Scragg, of Proctorville, were injured early today in a one-car accident near the Ross-Pickaway County line on Route 23.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Scragg, the driver, lost control of her car. She struck a curb on a crossover.

The car rolled on to the left fender, but righted itself before overturning. It came to rest broadside in the medial strip between the highways.

The auto was demolished, according to the State Highway Patrol.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Scragg suffered back injuries. They were taken to Berger Hospital and are awaiting transfer to the C and O Hospital at Huntington, W. Va.

Berger Hospital authorities listed Mrs. Scragg's condition as "good" and her husband's condition as "fair."

Michael Powell, their 2½-year-old grandson who was a passenger in the car, was not injured.

Viet Nam Force Kills 134 Reds In Major Drive

Viet Cong Guerrillas Hit by Airborne Unit Near Command Post

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese troops today reported 134 Red guerrillas killed in the first success of the government's major offensive to break the back of the Communist force in the Mekong River delta.

Military sources said the government's 1st Airborne Battalion encountered a large concentration of Viet Cong guerrillas Tuesday night a few miles south of the operation's command post at Bac Lieu, in southern Ba Xuyen Province.

An estimated 300 guerrillas ambushed the government battalion after U.S. Marine helicopters had ferried the South Vietnamese troops into the area. The paratroopers fought their way out of the ambush and chased the fleeing guerrillas through the flooded rice fields.

Government troops counted 54 dead guerrillas. The Vietnamese air force claimed its follow-up strafing attacks on the fleeing guerrillas killed 80 more Reds. American sources could not confirm the government claims.

Government casualties totaled six killed and 14 wounded.

Governmental forces also captured a small store of Communist arms and fuel in the clash, the first time South Vietnamese troops have met a sizable Red force since they opened "Operation Big Pacification" last week.

The first phase of the drive to clean out or scatter the heavy Viet Cong concentrations controlling most of Viet Nam's southern tip ended last weekend in disappointment for its American planners.

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam and Thailand, and his high command had worked on the planning for three months and were highly optimistic when it got under way. But for four days, 4,000 government troops backed by fighter planes, U.S. helicopters and navy units pushed through Ca Mau peninsula at the tip of Viet Nam without making contact with any Viet Cong concentrations.

The estimated 2,000 guerrillas in the region melted into the thick mangrove swamps. American sources reported the drive netted only 60 Viet Cong dead.

The operation's second phase opened Tuesday as the government force turned northward to the river delta in Ba Xuyen Province, believed infiltrated by some 1,600 Red guerrillas in recent weeks.

McElroy Rips Cleveland For 'Bossism'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy charged Acting Mayor Ralph S. Locher today with what he described as "bossism — the likes of which has not been seen in city hall in almost 30 years."

McElroy, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for mayor, accused Locher of either forcing or persuading city civil service employees to circulate petitions for Locher.

Petition circulators for Locher were given time off and city workers who refused to sign them were threatened with loss of their jobs, McElroy charged.

McElroy, choice of the Cuyahoga County Democratic organization for the $25,000-a-year job, said Locher's tactics reminded him of "Boss Tweed and Tammany Hall practices which were current around the beginning of the century."

He said his charges were based on information given him by city employees, who asked not to be identified.

Locher, former city law director, moved into the mayoral vacancy automatically when Anthony J. Celebrezze became Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. He had announced his intention to run regardless of what County Chairman Ray T. Miller's organization decided.

Lausche Raps U.S. Hiring State Aides

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fresh argument against proposed federal pay raise legislation has been brought before the Senate by Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio. He says the federal government is hiring talented specialists from state governments by offering better salaries than the states can.

Lausche cited complaints from an Ohio official, unnamed, that an Ohio agency, unidentified, has lost five employees of the Federal Wildlife Bureau this summer.

U.S. Delays Soviet Armored Cars As Tension Rises along Berlin Wall

BERLIN (AP) — U.S. Military Police held up three Soviet armored cars for 45 minutes today at the border on the sixth day of rising tension in this front line city of the cold war.

A U.S. spokesman on the spot said they were refused entry but went through anyhow. Informants said the Russians were barred because of Soviet rejection of an escort.

When the Soviets first arrived at the checkpoint, an American jeep pulled out in front of them, blocking their way. When an American Army sedan went into position to escort the armored cars, the jeep pulled back into a courtyard.

At first, the Russians refused to get out of their olive drab cars, marked with the red star. Then two Soviet officers emerged and talked with a U.S. major.

A U.S. Army sedan trailed the Soviet convoy to the Soviet war memorial in the British sector. The Russians returned about 45 minutes later and were quickly waved through the checkpoint into East Berlin.

The Russians have repeatedly rejected escorts while traveling in West Berlin despite the stoning by West Berlin demonstrators. They switched from buses to armored cars.

Earlier, East German border guards and West Berlin police fought with rocks and tear gas grenades across the Communist wall.

West police said the new clash erupted when the Red guards opened up with a rock barrage. They were driven back with tear gas grenades. No injuries were reported on either side.

The flareup came near Bernauer Strasse, scene of many daring escapes since the Communists built the barrier dividing the city.

During the night, West police rounded up 126 persons for identity checks in a hunt for Communist agents. The Western commandants have charged Red agents were fanning the demonstrations in West Berlin. All were released.

Heavy rains cleared the streets of West Berlin demonstrators during the night.

The Soviet war memorial sentries—stoned for three nights in a row—went to their posts in armored cars Tuesday night.

Showing no arms, the three Soviet armored cars and a Soviet staff car made the trip from Checkpoint Charlie to the Soviet War Memorial two miles away and back without incident.

American military police and West Berlin motorcycle policemen tailed the Soviet convoy while it was in West Berlin.

The Soviet switch from buses to less comfortable but safer armored vehicles came a night after a Russian soldier was bloodied in a bus stoning during the most violent outburst in West Berlin since the Communists began building their wall through the divided city a year ago.

The U.S. Army stationed an ambulance staffed by three American soldiers at Checkpoint Charlie with orders to go to the aid of refugees wounded on the East Berlin side of the wall if it appears the Communists will not render aid.

Allied commandants in West Berlin stressed that the ambulance team will not help East Germans flee to the West.

U.S. officials in Washington hope there will be no occasion to dispatch the ambulance through the wall, but the officials are considering undisclosed countermeasures should the Communists keep the ambulance from entering East Berlin.

15 Are Killed By Tremors Near Naples

First Lady, Caroline Unhurt; Thousands Flee to Open Areas

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — New earth tremors spread panic in southern Italy early today after a severe earthquake Tuesday night that took about 15 lives and injured at least 100.

No foreigners were reported among the dead and injured.

The earth shocks left a trail of damage from this port city to the Adriatic coast. Some of the deaths were attributed to heart attacks from fright. Many of the injured were hurt in panicky flights from swaying homes and buildings.

Jacqueline Kennedy's cliffside vacation villa at Ravello is only 45 miles southwest of the apparent epicenter of the worst quake. Only slight tremors were felt there and Mrs. Kennedy's 4-year-old daughter Caroline and the rest of the household remained calm, servants said.

The American First Lady was visiting in the garden of another villa across town. Only a slight tremor was felt there.

Premier Amintore Fanfani flew here today to help officials speed relief.

Thousands of frightened Italians spent the night in the open. New shocks at 4:10 a.m. and 7:15 a.m. followed Tuesday night's major quake at 7:30 p.m.

This Neapolitan city kept its public parks open for refugees. Police estimated a third of the 1,500,000 residents spent the night in the open.

Several bridges were wrecked, telephone lines knocked down, water and power systems in many communities cut off. Police patrolled glass-littered streets of (Continued on Page 2)

Bank, Mail Thefts Linked

BOSTON (AP)—A machine gun gang which held up a Lynn bank last spring and shot it out with police while escaping was linked today with the highwaymen who grabbed a record $1.5 million from a U.S. mail truck last week.

State police Capt. Michael J. Cullinane said Tuesday night he noticed a strong facial resemblance between composite pictures of two mail robbery suspects and descriptions of two of three men who fled the Essex Trust Co. branch in West Lynn last March 30 with $28,500.

In the West Lynn holdup, two masked bandits held 14 customers and 10 clerks at bay with a machine gun and a pistol and escaped in a car driven by a third man.

The composites of the two mail robber suspects are known as "Buster" and "Tony." Their faces were pieced together from information supplied by the driver and guard in the hijacked mail van.

Ohio Blue Law OKd for Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said today a proposal to modernize Ohio's Sunday closing regulations is assured a place on Nov. 6 election ballots.

Election boards in 80 counties declared 348,419 signatures valid on modernization petitions, 20,006 more than the 328,413 required for a popular vote on the issue, Brown said.

Still being checked are petitions sent to boards in the counties of Clinton, Coshocton, Fairfield Lake, Logan, Noble and Stark. Petitions were not submitted from Fayette County.

The Lawson Milk Co., operator of a chain of dairy stores, sponsored the drive for a popular vote on a change in the state constitution designed to clarify and revise a ban on Sunday sale of non-necessities.

Airline Pestered By Bomb Scares

CINCINNATI (AP) — For the second straight night, American Airlines flights centering on Greater Cincinnati Airport have been hampered because of a false bomb scare. A woman called the flight service section of the Federal Aeronautics Administration Tuesday night and said, "there is a bomb on American Airlines."

A search of planes at Columbus and Dayton turned up no bomb, but the Columbus flight was delayed 2½ hours and the one in Dayton was held back nearly an hour. A similar call Monday caused delay in four flights from Cincinnati.

Senator Nye Still Alive and Kicking--with Good Reason

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gerald P. Nye, one-time senator from North Dakota, arose from the grave in which a magazine article prematurely buried him and gave notice today that:

4. He is alive and kicking.

2. He knows where a certain body is buried, or rather where a truly dead ex-senator's ashes were strewn in the long ago. In fact, Nye strewed them himself, under a tree on the Capitol grounds.

What brought Nye back from "the Great Beyond," was an article in the September issue of Pageant magazine entitled: "The Only Man Buried on Capitol Hill."

It's a heart-tugging tale about Henry Clay Hansbrough, a publisher-politician who helped "tame the West, a pen in one hand and a sixgun in the other." When North Dakota entered the Union, he became its first representative in Congress and from 1891 to 1909 was U.S. senator.

Although still tall and handsome and although his handle-bar mustache still glistened, the aged Hansbrough felt a premonition of the end of 1933. Visiting the office of his friend, Sen. Nye, he said he loved Washington and wanted to remain on Capitol Hill forever.

Pointing out a window, he said: "When I die I want you to bury my ashes under that elm tree."

Now Nye knew it was against the rules to bury anybody on the Capitol grounds. But for old friendship's sake he consented.

A short time later the old man died, and a box bearing his ashes arrived at Nye's office. According to the magazine article, Nye gathered a few friends and colleagues, proceeded to the tree and buried the box with a simple whispered prayer.

Versions of the incident leaked out, writes the author of the article, Edward Hymoff, but:

"Sen. Nye himself carried the secret to the grave with him. Today, no one—barring possible survivors of the burial ceremony—even knows which elm tree the senator is buried under."

Nye, who is now 69 and a Federal Housing Administration specialist on housing for the elderly, got off a 1,500-word letter Tuesday to Howard Cohn, executive editor of Pageant. It wasn't as rough a letter as Nye might have written back in the days when he was a fire-eating isolationist whose Senate career (1925-2944) stirred many a controversy.

In fact it was a mellow epistle datelined "Over here in the Great Beyond." Death must have been painless, he said, for he never noticed it. It could have been used by those three wasps that stung him a while back in his garden.

But he wanted to set the record straight; he did not bury the box with Sen. Hansbrough's ashes; with his own hand he strewed them out of the box — "a plain everyday shoebox."

For years thereafter, he wrote, "the ground covered by the scattering produced the greenest grass on Capitol Hill and, at the time of my last observation, before coming Over Here, the tree, feeding upon the ashes of Henry Clay Hansbrough, was the healthiest looking of all the neighboring trees."

In conclusion, Nye gave Pageant a description of life "Over Here." It is much like life on earth, he said — gardening, churchgoing, work.

"I even draw pay for my services as though it were not known that I had departed life," he said.

Many things are much the same as on earth, he said — including bills to pay and "taxes, taxes, taxes."

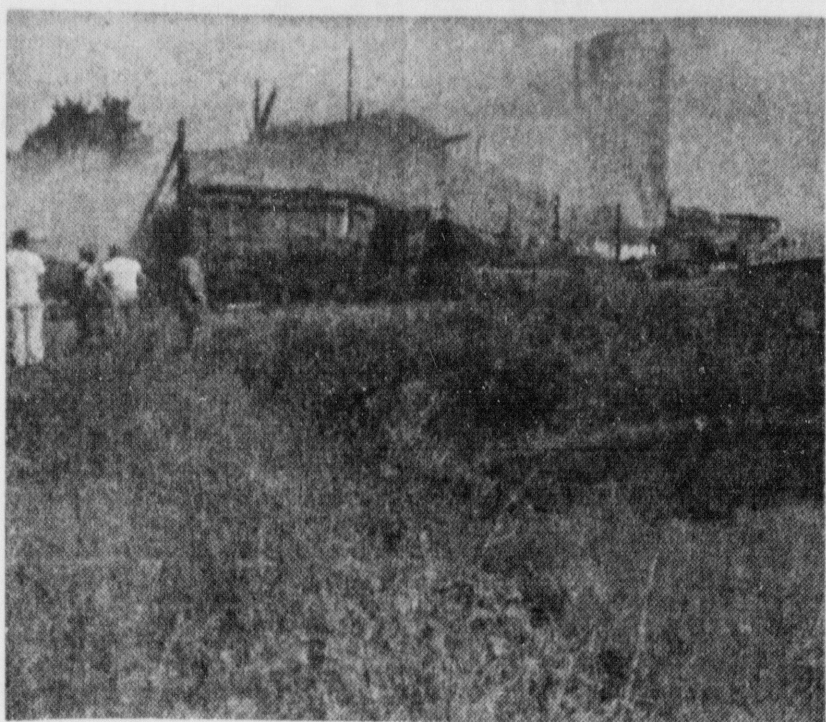

Editor Cohn told a newsman he was deeply embarrassed. "I'm glad to hear Sen. Nye is alive," he said, "and if he's kicking it's with good reason."

Author Hymoff said he thought he had checked his article thoroughly but guessed he had checked some of it "in the wrong places."

U.S. Delays Soviet Armored Cars As Tension Rises along Berlin Wall

BERLIN (AP) — U.S. Military Police held up three Soviet armored cars for 45 minutes today at the border on the sixth day of rising tension in this front line city of the cold war.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders pushed an omnibus farm bill through the Senate today with the hope that it will reduce the huge surpluses of grains piled up under past government price support programs.

The roll call vote was 47 to 37. A major feature of the controversial measure could sharply reduce or even end price supports for corn, sorghum, grains, barley and other livestock feed grains beginning with the 1964 crops. The new language would allow cutting the price props down as far as zero if it appeared the harvest would add to surplus stocks.

Another section would install stiff production controls over wheat, beginning with the 1964 crop if producers approved. But it still lacks several other crop reducing controls requested by the Kennedy administration.

The bill, a modified version of an earlier Senate measure rejected by the House, now goes back to that chamber.

A wheat control program similar to the one in the new Senate bill failed to get through the House on the first round, and the House also declined at that time to go as far as the Senate bill does on feed grains.

But Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., assistant Democratic leader who helped win Senate passage, has reported that House Democratic leaders expect agreement there now on both the wheat and feed grain formulas.

However, the chances are that the exact details must be worked out by a Senate-House conference committee and put through both houses again before the legislation, urged by President Kennedy, can reach his desk.

American military police and West Berlin motorcycle policemen trailed the Soviet convoy while it was in West Berlin.

The Soviet switch from buses to less comfortable but safer armored vehicles came a night after a Russian soldier was bloodied in a bus stoning during the most violent outburst in West Berlin since the Communists began building their wall through the divided city a year ago.

The U.S. Army stationed an ambulance staffed by three American soldiers at Checkpoint Charlie with orders to go to the aid of refugees wounded on the East Berlin side of the wall if it appears the Communists will not render aid.

Allied commandants in West Berlin stressed that the ambulance team will not help East Germans flee to the West.

U.S. officials in Washington hope there will be no occasion to dispatch the ambulance through the wall, but the officials are considering undisclosed countermeasures should the Communists keep the ambulance from entering East Berlin.

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you're hunting for a gift guaranteed to thrill even the most jaded young Indian—

Or perhaps just a conversation piece to enliven draggy patio parties—

The government has them—233 buffalo and 137 longhorn cattle.

They're part of the Interior Department's annual big game sale.

The animals graze at national wildlife refuges. Each year the growing herds have to be cut down to keep them from taxing the capacity of the ranges.

For $180 you can have a live buffalo to call your own. The longhorns will go to the highest bidder for those who prefer their big game packaged, frozen and ready for the freezer.

Butchered buffalo will go for $220 to $270 per carcass—depending on the process used. Quarters and halves are available, too.

Also for sale are 75 elk—but only after they have been butchered—at $110 to $145. Minimum quantity: a half carcass.

The orders for buffalo should be sent to any of three refuges—Wichita Mountains Wildlife Refuge, Cache, Okla.; Fort Niobrara National Wildlife Refuge, Valentine, Neb.; and the National Bison Range, Moiese, Mont.

Elk carcass sales will be only from the Wichita Mountains Refuge and the longhorn cattle will be sold at public auctions Sept. 20 at the Wichita Mountains Refuge and MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Two American military men released by pro-Communist forces in Laos left Clark Air Force base today for the United States.

The Air Force said Maj. Lawrence Bailey of Laurel, Md., will go to a hospital in Washington, D.C., and Sgt. Orville Ballenger of Columbus, Ohio, will go to a hospital in North Carolina.

An Air Force spokesman said the two men are "all right, but apparently they need another checkup." They traveled in a military plane that was scheduled to stop en route at Travis Air Force Base, California.

Bailey and Ballenger were released in Vientiane, Laos, last Friday along with three U.S. civilians and a Filipino. All had been captives for more than a year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gerald P. Nye, one-time senator from North Dakota, arose from the grave in which a magazine article prematurely buried him and gave notice today that:

1. He is alive and kicking.

2. He knows where a certain body is buried, or rather where a truly dead ex-senator's ashes were strewn in the long ago. In fact, Nye strewn them himself, under a tree on the Capitol grounds.

What brought Nye back from the "Great Beyond," was an article in the September issue of Pageant magazine entitled: "The Only Man Buried on Capitol Hill."

It's a heart-tugging tale about Henry Clay Hansbrough, a publisher-politician who helped "tame the West, a pen in one hand and a sixgun in the other." When North Dakota entered the Union, he became its first representative in Congress and from 1901 to 1909 was U.S. senator.

Although still tall and handsome and although his handle-bar mustache still glistened, the aged Hansbrough felt a premonition of the end of 1933. Visiting the office of his friend, Sen. Nye, he said he loved Washington and wanted to remain on Capitol Hill forever.

Pointing out a window, he said: "When I die I want you to bury my ashes under that elm tree."

Now Nye knew it was against the rules to bury anybody on the Capitol grounds. But for old friendship's sake he consented.

A short time later the old man died, and a box bearing his ashes arrived at Nye's office. According to the magazine article, Nye gathered a few friends and colleagues, proceeded to the tree and buried the box with a simple whispered prayers.

Versions of the incident leaked out, writes the author of the article, Edward Hymoff, but: "Sen. Nye himself carried the secret to the grave with him. Today, no one—barring possible survivors of the burial ceremony—ever knows which elm tree the senator is buried under."

Nye, who is now 69 and a Federal Housing Administration specialist on housing for the elderly, got off a 1,500-word letter Tuesday to Howard Cohn, executive editor of Pageant. It wasn't as rough a letter as Nye might have written back in the days when he was a fire-eating isolationist whose Senate career (1925-29) stirred many a controversy.

In fact it was a mellow epistle datelined "Over here in the Great Beyond." Death must have been painless, he said, for he never noticed it. It could have been used by those three wasps that stung him a while back in his garden.

But he wanted to set the record straight; he did not bury the box with Sen. Hansbrough's ashes; with his own hand he strewn them out of the box—"a plain everyday shoebox."

For years thereafter, he wrote, "the ground covered by the scattering produced the greenest grass on Capitol Hill and, at the time of my last observation, before coming Over Here, the tree, feeding upon the ashes of Henry Clay Hansbrough, was the healthiest looking of all the neighboring trees."

In conclusion, Nye gave Pageant a description of life "Over Here." It is much like life on earth, he said—gardening, church-going, work.

"I even draw pay for my services as though it were not known that I had departed life," he said.

Many things are much the same as on earth, he said—including bills to pay and "taxes, taxes, taxes."

Editor Cohn told a newsman he was deeply embarrassed. "I'm glad to hear Sen. Nye is alive," he said, "and if he's kicking it's with good reason."

Author Hymoff said he thought he had checked his article thoroughly but guessed he had checked some of it "in the wrong places."

Engineer Service Measure Held for Study by Solons

City Council last night held to first reading an ordinance providing for a contract with Burgess & Niple Consulting Engineers.

The contract would provide for services by the Columbus firm relative to surveying, street improvements, storm drainage, sanitary sewers and other miscellaneous projects. Council agreed to hold the ordinance for a further study by the Service Committee.

Frank Baum, local Burgess & Niple representative, was present to explain the measure. He said the new proposal lists rates slightly higher than those contained in a contract approved by the city in 1958.

Other business saw the lawmakers hold another ordinance to first reading and pass two more.

ENACTED was a measure to appropriate $2,500 from the general fund to be credited to the public employees retirement account. The second ordinance called for the appropriation of $5,500 from the general fund to be used for major street reconstruction on Mulberry Road.

A contract for the Mulberry job has been awarded to the C. E. Wardell Co. of Circleville that submitted a low bid of $5,439. The McFarland firm of Circleville offered a bid of $6,402.

The contract calls for required grading and surface treatment, and curbs and gutters for proper drainage.

Held to first reading was an ordinance seeking $200 to be credited to the police department clothing account. The request was referred to the Safety Committee.

Con Admits Theft Spree

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Penitentiary convict Edward H. Wheeler, according to Columbus police, says he robbed about 2,000 apartments and got $100,000 worth of loot in an 18-month, cross-country one-man crime wave.

Wheeler, 37, began a new prison term two weeks ago. He was sentenced from Fairfield County for breaking out of the county jail at Lancaster, larceny and breaking and entering.

A sometime Columbus resident, he has admitted 35 or 40 burglaries in the capital city alone, officers say.

Wheeler was captured in Chattanooga, Tenn., five days after his Lancaster escape. He has a police record dating back to 1940. When he gets out of prison here he has detainees awaiting him at Cleveland; Baton Rouge, La.; Memphis, Tenn.; and Mobile, Ala.

Pickaway Members Set for NFO Meet

A large delegation of Pickaway county NFO members will be in attendance at the National Farmers Organization "Meeting for Action" in Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 28, according to Robert O. Barnes, Pickaway county NFO president.

Officials said interest in the meeting and speculation on the decisions to be made are rapidly mounting. It is predicted this year's attendance will far exceed the 13,000 figure of last August, which was the largest farm meeting ever staged, they said.

Purpose of the meeting will be to set a definite timetable for an all-out holding action.

4 Feared Dead In Fume-Filled Storm Sewer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Explosions touched off by an accumulation of fumes today trapped four men 40 feet underground in a storm sewer tunnel.

Two to three hours after the blasts the bodies of two of the men were brought to the surface. Authorities said the other two were presumed to be dead.

William Conley, a fire marshal, identified the known dead as James Hennigan, 35, and William Gregory, 35; and the others as Robert Wilson, 27, and John Reddick, 25.

Firemen wearing air packs tried for over two hours to rescue them but the concentration of fumes was too great.

Samuel Baxter, city disaster coordinator, said at the scene that the vapors came from gasoline.

Since the scene of the tragedy, in South Philadelphia, adjoins the plants of several oil companies, special care was taken to guard against more explosions, Fire Chief George Hink said.

The tunnel was 200 feet long, leading out from a shaft 35 to 40 feet deep.

Gas in Sewer Kills 2 Men

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Two employees of the Stark County Engineer's Department were overcome by gas and killed Tuesday while checking storm sewer construction in nearby Perry Twp.

The victims were identified as Joseph Kuemerle, 35, and Norman Davis, 41, both of Canton. They were pronounced dead at Altman Hospital.

The accident occurred at Tioga Street and Perry Drive near Redurban.

Sheriff's deputies said Davis went into the sewer and collapsed. When Kuemerle went to his rescue he also collapsed. Firemen wearing gas masks removed the pair from the sewer and took them to the hospital.

County Engineer William A. Laiblin said the victims were members of a crew checking a new storm sewer and 50 feet of pipe under Perry Drive.

"We had no reports of any escaping gas and knew of no gas in the area," he said.

Stock Market Is Up Sharply

NEW YORK (AP)—Responding to an optimistic forecast by General Motors, auto shares paced a vigorous stock market advance early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 224.4 with industrials up 1.4, rails up .2, and utilities unchanged.

The ticker tape ran late. Trading was most active among the motors and chemicals. Some of the "takeover" oil stocks also were strong.

It was glad news to Wall Street that GM, already on its way to an all time profit record this year, said it expects 1963 to be every bit as good for the auto industry.

15 Are Killed

stricken towns against looters.

Geologic disasters—earthquakes and volcanic eruptions—are not new in this area around Vesuvius, the volcano that buried the city of Pompei 1,900 years ago.

The worst shocks struck in an area between two cities that have felt disastrous quakes in the 20th century—Avezzano where 30,000 persons were killed in 1915, and Messina where 75,000 perished in 1908.

A Neapolitan woman was struck by a falling cornice stone and killed. Two other Neapolitans died of heart attacks. Single deaths were reported at Molinara, Salerno and Avellino. Naples hospitals admitted 60 injured.

The top floor of a hospital collapsed at Passo Eclano, 40 miles east of Naples and near the quake's center. Several patients were reported injured.

Homes and buildings collapsed in at least half a dozen communities east of Naples. Windows were shattered in Naples and walls cracked. A railroad bridge collapsed at Bari, on the Adriatic Coast.

Avellino, a town of 37,000, 30 miles east of Naples, was especially hard hit. The quake knocked out the town's water supply and communications. Buildings lay in ruins.

Church bells chimed wildly throughout the countryside as the ground rocked across the peninsula to the Adriatic.

A mild quake preceded the main half-minute shock by 11 minutes and drove many of Naples' 1.5 million residents into the streets. When the heavy quake came, tens of thousands fled toward the Bay of Naples and open areas in the hills outside the city.

Open House Is Awaited By Children

Youngsters at the Pickaway County Children's Home are ready but excited for the open house scheduled Sunday, according to Winfield Koch, superintendent.

Koch said the youngsters were hoping for a big turnout at the event, the first of its kind at the home for many years. They have hopes of making it an annual event.

Cookies and punch will be served to those attending. Tours of the home and the grounds will be conducted throughout the afternoon. It is slated to start at 1 p. m. and will last until 7 p. m.

Many local merchants have donated useful articles for the youngsters to sell to visitors. They will have hot dogs, potato chips soft drinks and candy available.

PROCEEDS from the sale will go into the spending money fund for the children. They provide their own pocket money at Christmas time when they exchange gifts and at school functions they attend during the year.

Articles the youngsters will have for sale include stuffed toys, costume jewelry, pen knives, photo albums and banks.

Merchants who have donated articles to sell are:

Dailey's Locker, Greenlee's Grocery, L. M. Butch Co., Radcliff Cleaners, Joe Moats Auto Motor Sales, Dean's Potato Chips, Holsum Bread, Mac's Goodyear, Kochheiser Hardware, Brehmer's Greenhouse and Ullman's Flowers.

Humphrey, Aides Accused Of Misrepresentations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., today charged former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey and his associates in a multimillion-dollar stockpile nickel deal with deliberate misrepresentations and contradictory testimony.

With the explosive stockpiling hearings of a Senate Armed Services subcommittee in temporary recess, Engle, a member of the group, carried the dispute to the Senate floor.

The California Democrat, in a prepared Senate speech of more than 10,000 words, cited numerous passages from Humphrey's testimony and records to backstop his charges.

Engle contended that the records established that Humphrey and the Hanna mining complex he formerly headed engaged in deliberate misrepresentations to overcharge the government on both nickel for the stockpile and costs of operating a government smelter.

He said the Humphrey family, through a 14 per cent ownership of Hanna stock, had made total windfalls and profits of $4,089,321 from the nickel contracts.

And, he questioned Humphrey's testimony denying earlier sworn testimony by a government auditor that certain Hanna records needed by the Senate inquiry had been destroyed.

"Now somebody is not telling the truth," Engle said. "I would draw no conclusion on this matter now, but this question will be resolved in one way or another—and we will find out just who is lying—when hearings on this matter are resumed."

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., chairman of the investigation committee refused to hear additional testimony by Humphrey and associates last Friday and accused Humphrey of impugning the motives of the Senate and its investigating group.

After suddenly recessing the hearing over protests of Humphrey and Republican members of the subcommittee, Symington underwent a hernia operation last Saturday. Aides said he is making a good recovery in a hospital here.

Newport Area Vice Fines Near $60,000

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—Almost $60,000 in fines has been levied against a number of persons connected with operations of four former casinos in Newport and Campbell County.

The fines were on indictments returned by a special grand jury that reported to Special Judge Edward Hill a year ago after a sweeping vice investigation.

Hill assessed the fines, totaling $59,250, Tuesday.

Among those fined was Robert Sidell, Newport Mayor in 1951-53. He was fined $1,000 and costs on charges of leasing the Belmont Snax Bar for handbook operations and $250 and costs for leasing the place for dice games. Similar charges against his wife were dismissed.

Eleven persons at the Yorkshire Club were fined a total of $33,000 and costs for operating a handbook and allowing gambling on the premises. They got probated six-month jail terms.

4 Firms Get Second Chance

New Steel Probe
Subpoenas Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate antitrust investigators have voted to issue "second chance" subpoenas to four steel companies that refused to hand in reports on their pricing practices.

The action came Tuesday at a closed-door session of the Senate antitrust subcommittee. Chairman Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., said the vote was 5 to 3.

Before the session, Kefauver said he would ask the subcommittee to approve contempt of Congress citations against the National, Republic, Bethlehem and Armco steel corporations.

Instead, the senators decided to issue new subpoenas, giving the steel producers a second chance to comply, Kefauver said. He said the subpoenas will go out immediately, not only to the companies but to their chief officers as well, and will be returnable in 10 to 12 days.

The subcommittee's five Democrats voted to issue them, with the three Republican members opposed, Kefauver said.

The original subpoenas were issued last April after the steel industry's short-lived price increase. The $6-a-ton boost was announced and then rescinded under White House pressure.

Kefauver said at that time detailed information on production costs was essential for "an intelligent evaluation of the need for price increases."

He said last week that eight steel companies, including U.S. Steel Corp., had indicated they would comply with the subpoenas, although they strongly objected to submitting cost figures.

Kefauver said he advised the eight they need not produce the data until the question of compliance by the noncomplying companies has been finally determined.

Engineer Service Measure Held for Study by Solons

City Council last night held to first reading an ordinance providing for a contract with Burgess & Niple Consulting Engineers.

The contract would provide for services by the Columbus firm relative to surveying, street improvements, storm drainage, sanitary sewers and other miscellaneous projects. Council agreed to hold the ordinance for a further study by the Service Committee.

Frank Baum, local Burgess & Niple representative, was present to explain the measure. He said the new proposal lists rates slightly higher than those contained in a contract approved by the city in 1958.

Other business saw the lawmakers hold another ordinance to first reading and pass two more.

ENACTED was a measure to appropriate $2,500 from the general fund to be credited to the public employees retirement account. The second ordinance called for the appropriation of $5,000 from the general fund to be used for major street reconstruction on Mulberry Road.

A contract for the Mulberry job has been awarded to the C. E. Wardell Co. of Circleville that submitted a low bid of $5,439. The McFarland firm of Circleville offered a bid of $6,402.

The contract calls for required grading and surface treatment, and curbs and gutters for proper drainage.

Held to first reading was an ordinance seeking $200 to be credited to the police department clothing account. The request was referred to the Safety Committee.

Con Admits Theft Spree

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Penitentiary convict Edward H. Wheeler, according to Columbus police, says he robbed about 2,000 apartments and got $100,000 worth of loot in an 18-month, cross-country one-man crime wave.

Wheeler, 37, began a new prison term two weeks ago. He was sentenced from Fairfield County for breaking out of the county jail at Lancaster, larceny and breaking and entering.

A sometime Columbus resident, he has admitted 35 or 40 burglaries in the capital city alone, officers say.

Wheeler was captured in Chattanooga, Tenn., five days after his Lancaster escape. He has a police record dating back to 1940. When he gets out of prison here he has detainees awaiting him at Cleveland; Baton Rouge, La.; Memphis, Tenn., and Mobile, Ala.

Pickaway Members Set for NFO Meet

A large delegation of Pickaway county NFO members will be in attendance at the National Farmers Organization "Meeting for Action" in Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 28, according to Robert O. Barnes, Pickaway county NFO president.

Officials said interest in the meeting and speculation on the decisions to be made are rapidly mounting. It is predicted this year's attendance will far exceed the 13,000 figure of last August, which was the largest farm meeting ever staged, they said.

Purpose of the meeting will be to set a definite timetable for an all-out holding action.

4 Feared Dead In Fume-Filled Storm Sewer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Explosions touched off by an accumulation of fumes today trapped four men 40 feet underground in a storm sewer tunnel.

Two to three hours after the blasts the bodies of two of the men were brought to the surface. Authorities said the other two were presumed to be dead.

William Conley, a fire marshal, identified the known dead as James Hennigan, 35, and William Gregory, 35; and the others as Robert Wilson, 27, and John Reddick, 25.

Firemen wearing air packs tried for over two hours to rescue them but the concentration of fumes was too great.

Samuel Baxter, city disaster coordinator, said at the scene that the vapors came from gasoline.

Since the scene of the tragedy, in South Philadelphia, adjoins the plants of several oil companies, special care was taken to guard against more explosions. Fire Chief George Hink said.

The tunnel was 200 feet long, leading out from a shaft 35 to 40 feet deep.

Gas in Sewer Kills 2 Men

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Two employees of the Stark County Engineer's Department were overcome by gas and killed Tuesday while checking storm sewer construction in nearby Perry Twp.

The victims were identified as Joseph Kuemerle, 35, and Norman Davis, 41, both of Canton. They were pronounced dead at Altman Hospital.

The accident occurred at Tioga Street and Perry Drive near Reedurban.

Sheriff's deputies said Davis went into the sewer and collapsed. When Kuemerle went to his rescue he also collapsed. Firemen wearing gas masks removed the pair from the sewer and took them to the hospital.

County Engineer William A. Laibin said the victims were members of a crew checking a new storm sewer and 50 feet of pipe under Perry Drive. "We had no reports of any escaping gas and knew of no gas in the area," he said.

Stock Market Is Up Sharply

NEW YORK (AP) — Responding to an optimistic forecast by General Motors, auto shares paced a vigorous stock market advance early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 224.4 with industrials up 1.4, rails up .2, and utilities unchanged.

The ticker tape ran late. Trading was most active among the motors and chemicals. Some of the "takeover" oil stocks also were strong.

It was glad news to Wall Street that GM, already on its way to an all time profit record this year, said it expects 1963 to be every bit as good for the auto industry.

stricken towns against looters. Geologic disasters—earthquakes and volcanic eruptions—are not new in this area around Vesuvius, the volcano that buried the city of Pompei 1,900 years ago.

The worst shocks struck in an area between two cities that have felt disastrous quakes in the 20th century—Avezzano where 30,000 persons were killed in 1915, and Messina where 75,000 perished in 1908.

A Neapolitan woman was struck by a falling cornice stone and killed. Two other Neapolitans died of heart attacks. Single deaths were reported at Molinara, Salerno and Avellino. Naples hospitals admitted 60 injured.

The top floor of a hospital collapsed at Passo Eclano, 40 miles east of Naples and near the quake's center. Several patients were reported injured.

Homes and buildings collapsed in at least half a dozen communities east of Naples. Windows were shattered in Naples and walls cracked. A railroad bridge collapsed at Bari, on the Adriatic Coast.

Avellino, a town of 37,000, 30 miles east of Naples, was especially hard hit. The quake knocked out the town's water supply and communications. Buildings lay in ruins.

Church bells chimed wildly throughout the countryside as the ground rocked across the peninsula to the Adriatic.

A mild quake preceded the main half-minute shock by 11 minutes and drove many of Naples' 1.5 million residents into the streets. When the heavy quake came, tens of thousands fled toward the Bay of Naples and open areas in the hills outside the city.

Open House Is Awaited By Children

Youngsters at the Pickaway County Children's Home are ready but excited for the open house scheduled Sunday, according to Winfield Koch, superintendent.

Koch said the youngsters were hoping for a big turnout at the event, the first of its kind at the home for many years. They have hopes of making it an annual event.

Cookies and punch will be served to those attending. Tours of the home and the grounds will be conducted throughout the afternoon. It is slated to start at 1 p. m. and will last until 7 p. m.

Many local merchants have donated useful articles for the youngsters to sell to visitors. They will have hot dogs, potato chips soft drinks and candy available.

PROCEEDS from the sale will go into the spending money fund for the children. They provide their own pocket money at Christmas time when they exchange gifts and at school functions they attend during the year.

Articles the youngsters will have for sale include stuffed toys, costume jewelry, pen knives, photo albums and banks.

Merchants who have donated articles to sell are:

Dailey's Locker, Greenlee's Grocery, L. M. Butch Co., Radcliff Cleaners, Joe Moats Auto Motor Sales, Dean's Potato Chips, Holsum Bread, Mac's Goodyear, Kochheiser Hardware, Brehmer's Greenhouse and Ullman's Flowers.

Ohio Senators Divided On New Farm Bill Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's Democratic senators, Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young, voted on opposite sides in the 53-23 vote by which the Senate attached to a pending farm bill an amendment to authorize possible elimination of price supports on feed grains in 1964.

Young voted with the majority; Lausche against.

Humphrey, Aides Accused Of Misrepresentations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., today charged former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey and his associates in a multimillion-dollar stockpile nickel deal with deliberate misrepresentations and contradictory testimony.

With the explosive stockpiling hearings of a Senate Armed Services subcommittee in temporary recess, Engle, a member of the group, carried the dispute to the Senate floor.

The California Democrat, in a prepared Senate speech of more than 10,000 words, cited numerous passages from Humphrey's testimony and records to backstop his charges.

Engle contended that the records established that Humphrey and the Hanna mining complex he formerly headed engaged in deliberate misrepresentations to overcharge the government on both nickel for the stockpile and costs of operating a government smelter.

He said the Humphrey family, through a 14 per cent ownership of Hanna stock, had made total windfalls and profits of $4,089,321 from the nickel contracts.

And, he questioned Humphrey's testimony denying earlier sworn testimony by a government auditor that certain Hanna records needed by the Senate inquiry had been destroyed.

"Now somebody is not telling the truth," Engle said. "I would draw no conclusion on this matter now, but this question will be resolved in one way or another—and we will find out just who is lying—when hearings on this matter are resumed."

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., chairman of the investigation committee refused to hear additional testimony by Humphrey and associates last Friday and accused Humphrey of impugning the motives of the Senate and its investigating group.

After suddenly recessing the hearing over protests of Humphrey and Republican members of the subcommittee, Symington underwent a hernia operation last Saturday. Aides said he is making a good recovery in a hospital here.

Status Conscious

Status is a sometime thing. Being Americans, we go after it in a big way. Such as buying original paintings, the biggest barbecue in the block, or the plushiest automobile.

In Britain, the Establishment has long had a simpler and surer status-rating system. Anyone who is anyone has a string of honorary letters trailing after his name. But Britain is undergoing the revolution of rising expectations. As her society grows more affluent, the ordinary citizen becomes status-conscious. The cobbler puts his best foot forward by adding F. B. S. I. to his signature — Fellow of the Boot and Shoe Institute. The grocer joins the Institute of Certified Grocers and appends F. G. I. An amateur antiquarian can become a Fellow of the Ancient Monuments Society and earn a handsome set of honorary letters.

The Royal Society of Arts (members are F. R. S. A.) is concerned at "the proliferation of disignatory letters," and something will undoubtedly be done.

In this country, it takes a 35-year house mortgage, or four years of indebtedness on a too expensive car, to earn status in the eyes of one's peers. What a shame if the British having discovered an almost costless method, should do away with it.

Words Resolve Crisis

In the winking of an eye, war has become more humane. Well, not more humane, really, but easier to think about.

A physicist with the Princeton Institute for Advanced Study has devised new terms, less cumbersome and more abstract, to describe quantities of nuclear weapons.

A Beach is the quantity of fission energy which would produce enough fallout to kill half the world's population. This amounts to 3 million megatons.

A Kahn is the fission energy producing enough local fallout to kill everyone in the United States or the Soviet Union — about 10,000 megatons.

A Stockpile (in its new meaning) is the amount of fission energy which will be available for a war within the next decade. These are useful words. It saves much time, and gives the conscience fewer twitches, to talk about Beaches and Kahns than to speak of 200 million deaths, or 1½ billion deaths.

This little conscience-stifler is becoming more and more necessary. The American Stockpile, the physicist estimates, is 1.3 Beach — four million megatons of nuclear and fission explosives. By extrapolation, this is enough to kill two billion people.

This is not the sort of statistic dedicated scientists like to think about. The new words, which must set some sort of record in euphemism, will resolve the crisis.

Harder To Hustle Honest Buck

Every day it gets harder to hustle an honest buck. Astrologers have complained to New York City authorities that the quacks of their trade are ruining business. They object to the multitude of chrystal-gazers, tea-leaf readers, and palm readers.

The astrologers are getting more than they bargained for. New York's commissioner of markets is investigating not only the quacks, but the astrologers as well. The commissioner's men are roving the city now, trying to have their fortunes told.

If anyone tells them their futures, it's off to the precinct house.

The commissioner is neither heartless nor domatic, however. He tacitly admits there may be legitimate astrologers in saying "it will be a touchy business" separating true and false practitioners.

Meanwhile, the fortune-telling business is going underground. If the effect is the same as an earlier form of prohibition, New York should be a bull market for soothsayers.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—In a year marked by disappointments that some phases of the economy fell short of expected heights the U.S. debt is an exception. Just as billed, it has risen above $300 billion for the first time.

Managing this huge debt is a colossal task in itself, since it changes from day to day, with some part almost always about to mature, and since it influences interest rates and financing of many other forms of debt, from state and local governments to corporate, mortgage and personal debt.

And even the proper distribution of the federal debt among various types of investors—banks, corporations, institutions, individuals—can be a problem, changing as the business cycle does.

The federal debt is expected to go on rising for a time, perhaps reaching a peak in midwinter then drop as the Treasury's seasonal flow of tax collections increases.

Beyond that is the possibility of even higher peaks for the debt—

if tax rates are cut next year as now proposed, and if government expenditures should rise notably to combat a recession which some economists think probable in 1963. Other contingencies, which the Treasury must always keep in mind, are sudden international events which could increase expenditures for defense or for the race in space.

Already the Treasury spends more than $9 billion a year for interest on the debt. It has a very practical concern with the trend of interest rates.

The prospect is bleak enough to the traditional American way of thinking which labels debt as wrong and balanced budgets as a fixed goal. Individual experience is that personal budgets long out of balance lead to disaster.

But there is a new school of thinking, growing more articulate, which holds that a $300-billion government debt isn't as bad as it seems to some, and that balanced budgets under some conditions are harmful.

This school compares the $300-billion debt not with past levels of indebtedness but with the national income and with total national assets. This way the debt shows a smaller percentage now than in some past eras. It is smaller per capita than in the previous debt peak at the end of World War II because the debt has grown at a slower rate than the population.

In other words, these economists hold that we can afford a $300-billion federal debt.

But the immediate problem for the Treasury is this: It must keep eternally at paying it off, even when it is going further into debt.

At the individual's level this shows up in the sale and redemption of U.S. savings bonds. These activities go on constantly, with the ratio between them changing

Her lover, ex-convict John Edwin Myer, 33, is awaiting execution in Texas for the Dekraai murder.

World of Precision

By George Sokolsky

Small boys, when I was a small boy, talked base-ball and such. Now, they seem to be technologists. They know about space, about missiles, how to hot rod an automobile, and so on. Parents listen in astonishment at junior small talk which is really out of this world.

The fact of the matter is that the heroes of the day are Astronauts and to most, it matters little whether they are Americans or Russians or anything—they are the men who are doing the unbelievable. Also even kids know that science is a matter of team work. Nobody could get up there all on his own; he has to have a supporting team and lots of boys expect to be on that supporting team.

What President Eisenhower called a "scientific — technological elite." President Kennedy has incorporated into a government office, "The Office of Science and Technology." The federal government will spend $12,000,000,000 (billion) on research and development this year. This does not include what private industry is spending on R & D, as businessmen call it. Science has become a major government operation.

This is characteristic of a changed world. In fact, so technological have we become that our politicians, before they decide on their behaviour, have surveys made and polls taken and the whole summarized by mechanical computers so that no one need think about right and wrong and morality and virtue.

It is like my mail. For something like 30 years, I have spent Summer up here in Berkshire County in Massachusetts where I can read and study and renew myself. And during all those years, my mail was forwarded by the New York Post Office. But lo and behold! This year improvements were made and the Post Office is becoming mechanized and it is using more automatic machinery and also the Post Office thing more money for stamps.

But on Wednesdays my mail does not come. On Wednesday, my mail goes to Falmouth in the Cape Cod area, about 160 miles away from here. Why does the mail go to Falmouth instead of to Otis? Because the Otis Air Force Base is there. I telephone to the mail clerk at the Air Force Base, at my own expense, and he very kindly forwards my mail to me.

Apparently somebody on a train in Springfield, Massachusetts, cannot read on Wednesdays. He reads all other days, but Wednesday is his off day. Or maybe, it is all done by a machine which refuses to work on Wednesday.

I have a teletypewriter up here and one day on it came a message which I thought I should not have. I broke in to tell the sender that he had the wrong place. The sender had no sense of humor. It took a telephone official to convince him that either he or the machine or perhaps a pixie had made an error.

The real trouble with science is that it is difficult to evaluate. It takes a scientist to read the stuff and while he may be full of knowledge, he may have no wisdom. The government lets contracts to universities, contractors and to "think companies," as someone calls them. The universities have been productive of enormous scientific knowledge which has been useful; contractors are especially good at testing, measuring, justifying. The "think companies" are a gamble and like my Wednesday mail loser, they may or may not be productive.

Really what President Kennedy has done has been to get the stuff into a responsible government office run by a government scientist, Dr. Jerome Wiesner, where the reports will be evaluated and the geniuses separated from the fakers. As most problems in modern science have to do with higher mathematics, most politicians cannot read the stuff or analyze its significance.

The work of the Office of Science and Technology is to be encouraged. It is part of the permanent Cold War which has become our lot. One of its problems is to have precise knowledge of exact science. Guessing will not do. We have to be absolutely right. A missile must hit its target; there can be no second chance. A space ship must be where it should be. A new drug must cure, not kill. The Federal Drug Administration by one decision has earned all that has been spent on it. It is a new world we live in — a world of pinpoint precision.

Readers Ask About Epilepsy-Scleroderma

Q. This question is being submitted after I read your column on epilepsy. A relative of mine has spells in which he has to stop and be very still for a few minutes. He breathes fast and gets pale but does not froth at the mouth or jerk. After a few minutes he gets over it. If this is epilepsy, what drugs should he take?

A. This is more or less typical of petit mal epilepsy. Don't encourage your relative to try do-it-yourself diagnosis and treatment but urge him to see a physician. The doctor should be given a complete and accurate description of just what occurs during the attacks. There are several very effective drugs for this type of epilepsy, but let the doctor decide which to use.

P.B.I. Test

Q. What is a P.B.I. test?

A. It is a test for thyroid function, which measures the amount of thyroid hormone bound to one of the water-soluble components of the blood. When the amount is too high it usually indicates an overactive thyroid. When the amount is too low it usually means a thyroid function below normal.

Scleroderma

Q. I have an incurable skin disease called scleroderma. My right arm is affected. How long will it be before my arm becomes useless?

A. It would be impossible to say, because scleroderma goes through periods of activity and let-up. In some cases the affected area will tend to clear up, while at the same time a new area may become involved. Scleroderma can appear suddenly and progress rapidly. More often, however, the onset is slow, the process requiring years for full development. (For the benefit of other readers, scleroderma is "hardening" of the skin and underlying tissue, including muscle.)

At the individual's level this shows up in the sale and redemption of U.S. savings bonds. These activities go on constantly, with the ratio between them changing from month to month—and thus affecting the size of the total federal debt.

Each week the Treasury must also pay off more than a billion dollars worth of short-term bills coming due. It does this by offering new ones, and as often as not offers more new ones than old ones, thus raising new money—and the total debt.

Also longer-term notes and bonds mature at frequent intervals and must be paid. Here also the Treasury usually offers to swap new ones for old—and sometimes raises a little more money to boot.

That's how the debt grows. And the changes in interest rates paid each time, the types of offerings—long- or short-term—and the type of investor to whom they appeal all affect the economy by touching its very sensitive nerve; the money market.

World of Precision

By George Sokolsky

Small boys, when I was a small boy, talked base-ball and such. Now, they seem to be technologists. They know about space, about missiles, how to hot rod an automobile, and so on. Parents listen in astonishment at junior small talk which is really out of this world.

The fact of the matter is that the heroes of the day are Astronauts and to most, it matters little whether they are Americans or Russians or anything—they are the men who are doing the unbelievable. Also even kids know that science is a matter of team work. Nobody could get up there all on his own; he has to have a supporting team and lots of boys expect to be on that supporting team.

What President Eisenhower called a "scientific - technological elite," President Kennedy has incorporated into a government office, "The Office of Science and Technology." The federal government will spend $12,000,000,000 (billion) on research and development this year. This does not include what private industry is spending on R & D, as businessmen call it. Science has become a major government operation.

This is characteristic of a changed world. In fact, so technological have we become that our politicians, before they decide on their behavior, have surveys made and polls taken and the whole summarized by mechanical computers so that no one need think about right and wrong and morality and virtue.

It is like my mail. For something like 30 years, I have spent Summer up here in Berkshire County in Massachusetts where I can read and study and renew myself. And during all those years, my mail was forwarded by the New York Post Office. But lo and behold! This year improvements were made and the Post Office is becoming mechanized and it is using more automatic machinery and also the Post Office thing more money for stamps.

But on Wednesdays my mail does not come. On Wednesday, my mail goes to Falmouth in the Cape Cod area, about 160 miles away from here. Why does the mail go to Falmouth instead of to Otis? Because the Otis Air Force Base is there. I telephone to the mail clerk at the Air Force Base, at my own expense, and he very kindly forwards my mail to me.

Apparently somebody on a train in Springfield, Massachusetts, can not read on Wednesdays. He reads all other days, but Wednesday is his off day. Or maybe, it is all done by a machine which refuses to work on Wednesday. I have a teletypewriter up here and one day on it came a message which I thought I should not have. I broke in to tell the sender that he had the wrong place. The sender had no sense of humor. It took a telephone official to convince him that either he or the machine or perhaps a pixie had made an error.

The real trouble with science is that it is difficult to evaluate. It takes a scientist to read the stuff and while he may be full of knowledge, he may have no wisdom. The government lets contracts to universities, contractors and to "think companies," as someone calls them. The universities have been productive of enormous scientific knowledge which has been useful; contractors are especially good at testing, measuring, justifying. The "think companies" are a gamble and like my Wednesday mail loser, they may or may not be productive.

Really what President Kennedy has done has been to get the stuff into a responsible government office run by a government scientist, Dr. Jerome Wiesner, where the reports will be evaluated and the geniuses separated from the fakers. As most problems in modern science have to do with higher mathematics, most politicians cannot read the stuff or analyze its significance.

The work of the Office of Science and Technology is to be encouraged. It is part of the permanent Cold War which has become our lot. One of its problems is to have precise knowledge of exact science. Guessing will not do. We have to be absolutely right. A missile must hit its target; there can be no second chance. A space ship must be where it should be. A new drug must cure, not kill. The Federal Drug Administration by one decision has earned all that has been spent on it. It is a new world we live in — a world of pinpoint precision.

Readers Ask About Epilepsy-Scleroderma

Q. This question is being submitted after I read your column on epilepsy. A relative of mine has spells in which he has to stop and be very still for a few minutes. He breathes fast and gets pale but does not froth at the mouth or jerk. After a few minutes he gets over it. If this is epilepsy, what drugs should he take?

A. This is more or less typical of petit mal epilepsy. Don't encourage your relative to try do-it-yourself diagnosis and treatment but urge him to see a physician. The doctor should be given a complete and accurate description of just what occurs during the attacks. There are several very effective drugs for this type of epilepsy, but let the doctor decide which to use.

P.B.I. Test
Q. What is a P.B.I. test?

A. It is a test for thyroid function, which measures the amount of thyroid hormone bound to one of the water-soluble components of the blood. When the amount is too high it usually indicates an over-active thyroid. When the amount is too low it usually means a thyroid function below normal.

Scleroderma

Q. I have an incurable skin disease called scleroderma. My right arm is affected. How long will it be before my arm becomes useless?

A. It would be impossible to say, because scleroderma goes through periods of activity and let-up. In some cases the affected area will tend to clear up, while at the same time a new area may become involved. Scleroderma can appear suddenly and progress rapidly. More often, however, the onset is slow, the process requiring years for full development. (For the benefit of other readers, scleroderma is "hardening" of the skin and underlying tissue, including muscle.)

Booklets Offer Etiquette for Entertaining

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

The hostess role doesn't ruffle the seasoned homemaker, for practice has perfected her technique. But entertaining is apt to toss both teen-agers and new brides into a panic.

Happily for both, there are two new booklets available that offer quick courses in the dos and don'ts of entertaining.

Brides will find one of them, "How's Your Entertaining Etiquette?", very helpful.

It covers all sorts of social matters, tells how to issue invitations, make introductions and plan at-home parties.

There are suggestions on what to serve and on setting your table. The booklet ends with a true-false quiz.

Here are a few sample questions from it for those who want to put their entertaining etiquette to a test.

1. The host and hostess should be ready to receive their guests in the living room at least five minutes before the hour at which guests have been invited.

2. At dinner, the hostess starts the conversation with the man at her left; the host with the woman at his right.

3. The hostess signals her guests to leave the table by pushing back her chair, standing up and slowly moving away from the table.

4. In introducing oneself, one should be extremely careful to avoid using "Mr." or "Mrs." or any other title.

If you've answered true to all four questions, rate yourself "E", for Efficiency in the Etiquette of Entertaining!

The second booklet, "You're Entertaining", is designed just for teen-agers, and they're sure to find it helpful.

Mom will give her seal of approval, too, for it concludes with a reminder to the teen hostess and her pals to leave everything shipshape and to clean up any signs of party chaos.

The booklet covers the hostess bit thoroughly, discusses invitations, decorations, menus, care and handling of guests and party budgeting.

Since community parties are popular with the younger set, there's a chapter on how to arrange them that suggests these three secrets for success:

1. Arrange for a hostess or co-hostesses who accept responsibility in the planning, preparation and budgeting of the party.

2. Get every committee member named and into the act promptly, so each shares in the fun and no one's overburdened.

3. Well before the party, make sure equipment is in order and that you know how to operate lights, amplifying system and other facilities; also, have games and special activities in mind to keep guests interested in case the program lags.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

Still a 'Soph' at Heart!

DEAR ABBY: How long does it take for a grown man to forget where he went to college? A friend of mine is almost 50, and two minutes after he meets someone he manages to get into the conversation that he went to Harvard. Now I know lots of men who went to Harvard, but they don't mention it 25 times a day. It so happens I never went to college and my income is easily double that of my Harvard friend — which proves you don't have to go to Harvard to be a success.

What can I say to this Harvard grad to let him know he sounds ridiculous?

WOODROW WILSON HIGH, 1933
DEAR W. W. '33: Persuading a 50-year-old man that he "sounds ridiculous" is a hopeless task. It's just another case where the boy got through college but college never got through the boy. Forget it.

we go to a friend's home he goes off by himself and listens to the radio. Or else he just sits and talks to the dog! He never has a thing to say. I try to draw him into the conversation and he answers with a YES or a NO. What does a wife do when she is married to a moron like this?

BORED AND EMBARRASED
DEAR B AND E: Who picked this moron? And why?

CONFIDENTIAL TO HIGH POCKETS: The guy who always winds up with the check is not necessarily a "good kid". He is more of a goat.

If that shredded coconut is dry, you can freshen it by turning it into a strainer and steaming it over boiling water. The moist coconut will taste better than the dry when added to cake batter or cookie dough.

Dear Abby: Still a 'Soph' at Heart!

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: How long does it take for a grown man to forget where he went to college? A friend of mine is almost 50, and two minutes after he meets someone he manages to get into the conversation that he went to Harvard. Now I know lots of men who went to Harvard, but they don't mention it 25 times a day. It so happens I never went to college and my income is easily double that of my Harvard friend — which proves you don't have to go to Harvard to be a success.

What can I say to this Harvard grad to let him know he sounds ridiculous?

WOODROW WILSON HIGH, 1933
DEAR W. W. '33: Persuading a 30-year-old man that he "sounds ridiculous" is a hopeless task. It's just another case where the boy got through college but college never got through the boy. Forget it.

we go to a friend's home he goes off by himself and listens to the radio. Or else he just sits and talks to the dog! He never has a thing to say. I try to draw him into the conversation and he answers with a YES or a NO. What does a wife do when she is married to a moron like this?

BORED AND EMBARRASSED
DEAR B AND E: Who picked this moron? And why?

CONFIDENTIAL TO HIGH POCKETS: The guy who always winds up with the check is not necessarily a "good kid". He is more of a goat.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans and Russians, in their proposals to each other about banning nuclear tests, are like two men with an endless supply of balloons in a shooting gallery.

When one gets shot down, they're not surprised. They send up another. They've been doing it for years. The United States is about to send up another.

This time, an authoritative source here said Tuesday, the United States is ready to propose a ban on nuclear tests in the atmosphere. This ought to pop fast, since the Russians have already decided such an idea.

All the maneuvering between the two powers is based on what each side says it wants and doesn't want. This has been repeated so often it sounds scratchy.

The United States says it wants disarmament—including a ban on nuclear tests—but in a world as sinful as this one it wants to be sure there's no cheating. So it insists on an inspection system to make sure.

The Soviets say they want disarmament—including a ban on nuclear tests—but they're even more distrustful than the United States. They say inspection is just an American spy trick. They want none of it.

This sums up years of talking between the two giants. Back in 1958, without any formal agreement, the United States, Russia and Britain voluntarily agreed to suspend nuclear tests.

That lasted three years but it would be getting ahead of the story to say what happened then because something else happened in between times.

In 1959—while the voluntary ban was on—the Eisenhower administration proposed a formal ban on nuclear tests in the lower atmosphere — which would be

Teacher Union Chief Raps NEA Policies

DETROIT (AP)—President Carl J. Megel told the American Federation of Teachers (AFL CIO) convention Tuesday the National Education Association is trying to exterminate the teachers union.

Megel, keynote speaker at the convention, said in a prepared address: "The NEA does not expect to compete with us. It intends to exterminate us."

The AFT president's speech to approximately 750 delegates to the 46th annual convention contained his promised reply to attacks from the NEA on his union's policies.

He defended teacher unionism and pledged increased organization of the AFT, inviting aid from the AFL-CIO.

The NEA, which claims 800,000 members in the teaching profession, condemned the AFT's one-day strike last spring against the New York City public school system.

In contrast to the 70,000-member AFT, the NEA policy calls for settlement of teacher grievances by negotiation.

At its Denver convention earlier this year, however, the NEA approved a program of sanctions against off-zone schools or school districts. This would have a blacklisting effect.

Megel said the NEA should be condemned "by every thoughtful teacher in the nation" because of its attitude toward the teachers' federation.

"Instead of mobilizing its energies to resolve our common educational problems, the NEA chooses rather to declare an 'all-out' war against another teachers' organization. For this the NEA should stand condemned by every thoughtful teacher in the nation."

about 31 miles up—and in the sea. This was suggested as the first step in a step-by-step ban on all tests, including underground one. Russia promptly denounced the very thought of it.

Premier Khrushchev got out the Soviet record and played it over again—a demand for a ban on all kinds of tests everywhere—and suggested that under the American proposals it wouldn't be all right to test less than 31 miles up but would be all right to blast off at 50.

He said no. Then suddenly last Aug. 31—although American authorities had thought something was cooking—Khrushchev called off that voluntary ban which started in 1958 and announced Russia would begin testing. It did, right away.

The Russians' ability to resume tests so fast meant they had been preparing for months. Khrushchev's excuse was that Russia couldn't let the United States develop nuclear superiority.

Immediately President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan made him a proposition: Let's ban all tests which "take place in the atmosphere and cause radioactive fallout."

This would seem to leave the door open for plenty of atmospheric tests, so long as they didn't produce fallout. That's exactly what Khrushchev said his interpretation was. He wouldn't buy.

He noted that the Kennedy-Macmillan proposal didn't cover a ban on tests underground or in outer space. He said the solution was complete disarmament. He went on testing in the atmosphere.

Almost at once the United States resumed underground testing, which would indicate it was prepared for just such an event. It wasn't prepared for atmospheric tests and took months to get ready.

Then this country, in the spring of 1962, began its tests over the Pacific—firing one at a high altitude on July 9. Not to be outdone, Khrushchev announced Russia would have some more tests, and tested again.

Then recently the United States, while still insisting on some kind of inspection inside Russia, offered a new nuclear test ban plan, this time with fewer inspectors.

Russia said no on that one. Now the United States is about to propose an atmospheric test ban, although Khrushchev has already said no soap on that one.

Pennsy Chief Hails Mergers Of Railroads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the Pennsylvania Railroad says mergers are the medicine which can avert possible bankruptcy and nationalization of the nation's railroads.

James W. Symes, whose line seeks Interstate Commerce Commission permission to merge with the New York Central, said Monday the main railroads in the East could be fitting into three big new systems by a series of proposed mergers.

The Pennsylvania - Central would form the nucleus of one of the "eastern big three" suggested by Symes.

"There is no question in my mind that they would be competitively balanced and that all of them would be able to provide better service at lower cost," said Symes, board chairman of the Pennsylvania.

He testified at an ICC examiners' hearing on the merger application which may last for months.

Symes outlined his eastern railroad merger plan this way: Merger of the Chesapeake & Ohio with the Baltimore & Ohio, now pending before the ICC, would form one system which could include the Central of New Jersey, Reading, Western Maryland and the Staten Island Rapid Transit.

The Norfolk & Western and the Nickel Plate, which also seek ICC merger approval would form the basis of a system including the Wabash and the Grand Trunk Western if that road "desires to be included." The N&W - Nickel Plate merger application already includes a plan to lease the Wabash.

The Pennsylvania-Central would be the basis of a system including the Ann Arbor, Detroit, Toledo & Ironton, and the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie.

Long Distance Calls Made 'Free'

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Bell Telephone Company probably doesn't like it but the call that sent this story to the Associated Press bureau in Cincinnati was for free.

And so have been a lot of other long distance calls—to all parts of the country.

Ohio Bell will switch Middletown's long distance service to direct dialing next Sunday. In the last day or two, however, there has been a two-hour test period but during that time there has been no hookup with the device that records time and charges.

The rumor began getting around and if Middletown residents were lucky enough to try a call during those test periods there was no charge.

Water, Air Behavior In Space Is Reported

MOSCOW (AP)—Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich said today he found the behavior of air and water in a partly filled flask of particular interest in his scientific experiments in orbit.

"On earth the water is below and the air on top," he told a news conference. "In space the water is on top and below while the air is in the middle in the shape of a sphere. No matter how hard you shake the flask, the air will again assemble in a sphere."

Views on Television - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—All television roles, whether leading parts or walk-ons, fall into one of two categories: tours de force or pot-sies.

This is the analysis of Audrey Christie, a happy refugee from Broadway and soap opera, currently playing a patsy in "Fair Exchange," CBS' forthcoming experiment in weekly, hour-long situation comedy.

"A tour de force role is one in which something happens to the character itself," Miss Christie explained. "It is the narcotic addict, the one who commits the murder, the neurotic woman who keeps telephoning the police when she's alone and scared in the lonely house."

"But if you play a patsy, you are busy running around laying plot and setting things up so they will happen to other characters. Patsies are the man in the next call, landladies who saw the murderer or—as I am now—a nagging mother."

Miss Christie's patsy mother is commanding general of a TV-type household consisting of hen-pecked husband and teen-age son plus a young visitor from overseas.

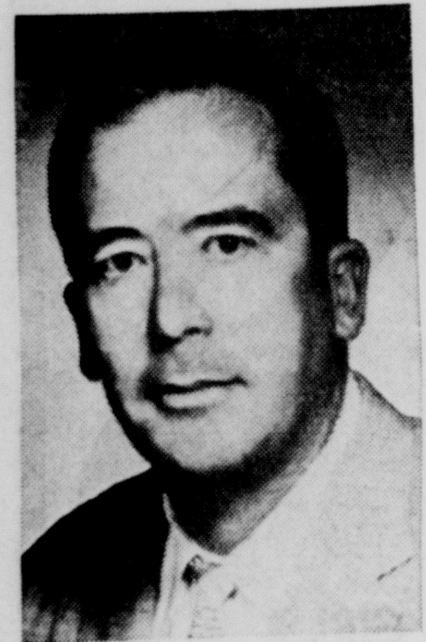

This is all part of an elaborate device — contrasting the homelife and mores of Hollywood's conception of average, middle-class American and British families — to keep the home viewers chuckling for a full hour (less time out for commercials, of course) come fall. At its foundation, it is really a double feature — two situation comedies in one big package.

The gimmick that weds the two is having the English family and the American family exchange their teen-age daughters for a year. Each show will relate what is happening in both families.

All this, of course, makes it necessary to have two complete casts and two complete groups of sets. But there is only one camera crew, so things are worked out to have the English cast rehearsing in one part of the studio while the American cast is busy before the film cameras, and vice versa.

GE Executive Will Address Rotary Club

Wally Holtsinger, General Electric lamp marketing sales executive, will address Rotarians Thursday at their noon meeting. The subject of his talk will be the importance of putting "Accent on Value".

WALLY HOLTSINGER

Holtsinger's talk will cover how important it is that the product designer, the men and women in the factory, the salesmen — everyone who has any part in a product being produced and delivered to a customer — to always have the customer in mind and strive to put better value into his or her work.

As Holtsinger sees it, "King Customer" has so many choices between different competing products and different companies making similar products that the final decision is on the extra value.

Employees play a major role in this added value, he contends. Today, plant employees are kept informed of customer needs, kept informed of customer complaints, and are urged to make suggestions on how to provide even better values, he adds.

HOLTSINGER will point out in his talk that successful merchants and salesmen are those who best correctly show these extra product values, and importantly, give helpful customer service a real value, too.

Following the Rotary meeting, Holtsinger will address Circleville Lamp Plant workers on all three shifts where he will explain some of the problems facing General Electric lamp salesmen and the part all GE employees have in putting "Accent on Value" for GE customers.

Voting Machines Slated for Tests

CINCINNATI (AP)—Residents of three suburban communities—Lincoln Heights, Lockland and Wyoming—have been tabbed to test voting machines in the November general elections.

The machines, made by Coyle's Voting Machine Co. of Hamilton, work somewhat differently from voting machines used in many Ohio cities.

With the Coyle devices, the voter punches holes in a card to mark his selections. The cards then are processed electronically.

The Hamilton County Board of Elections approved the test Monday and authorized leasing 100 machines from the firm. At the same time the board let contracts to several printing firms for paper ballots for the rest of the county.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A gentle north wind moved over Ohio from the Great Lakes, dropping temperatures into the 50s during the night.

Early morning readings today ranged from 54 at Cleveland to 63 at Cincinnati. Toledo and Columbus had 56.

The only rainfall during the past 24 hours consisted of a few widely scattered light showers over the central and southern counties.

Clear skies prevailed over the state this morning.

Slow-moving high pressure is expected to control Ohio's weather for the next 24 to 36 hours. Afternoon temperatures are forecast to return to the 90s Thursday.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO—Temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 80-81, normal low 58-63. Well above normal temperatures until cooler about Saturday, much below normal temperatures Sunday and Monday. Rainfall will average one-half inch or more in scattered showers or thundershowers Friday, Saturday and Monday.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO—Temperatures will average two to five degrees below normal. Normal high 82-86, normal low in low 60s. Cooler over weekend. Rainfall will average one-half to one inch latter part of week.

Hospital Trustees Seek Court Order

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Trustees of Lake County Memorial Hospital asked the Ohio Supreme Court today for an order requiring county auditor John H. Mumme of Painesville to approve payment of $22,546 for equipment and furnishings.

The mandamus actions by William P. Gross and five other trustees said the auditor's refusal impaired a hospital building program.

Chief Justice Carl Weygant gave the auditor until Aug. 29 to show why such an order should not be issued.

The money sought for equipment and furnishings would come from a hospital building fund created from sale of $3.5 million in bonds approved by voters in 1956 and more than $1 million received from the U.S. Public Health Service.

Friece Nomination For Postmaster Job Sent to President

A nomination calling for William Friece to serve as permanent postmaster at New Holland has been submitted to President John F. Kennedy.

Friece has been acting postmaster at New Holland since last year. He was notified today of the nomination submission to President Kennedy in a telegram from Sen. Stephen Young of Ohio.

The telegram indicated that Sen. Young will do all possible to speed up the permanent appointment.

Friece, a Circleville native, was endorsed for the postmaster job by the Pickaway County Democratic Executive Committee in February of 1961. He assumed the acting post the same year.

New Holland opened its new post office building several weeks ago.

The President's Cup Regatta boat races are held in Washington on the four weekends between mid-August and mid-September.

Group Returns From Session At Wittenberg

Members of the Junior and Senior Luther Leagues of Trinity Lutheran Church have returned after attending the Ohio District Lutheran League Convention at Wittenberg University in Springfield.

Highlights of the convention included such topics as Science and Religion, Communism and Christianity, Juvenile Delinquency, Witnessing in the World of Occupations, and many other subjects.

Hundreds of Ohio youths worshipped together, studied the scriptures and joined in a great variety of activities. Dr. Kenneth Priebe, president of the Ohio District American Lutheran Church, and Rev. John Mueller, head of the ALC Youth Department, and many other leading Lutheran Churchmen spoke at the convention. A panel comprised of these men later discussed questions which had been deposited in question boxes placed in dormitories and in the convention hall.

A talent show and other recreational activities were interspersed into the program on Friday and Saturday. A giant sized picnic was held Saturday evening in the beautiful Snyder Park which adjoins the campus.

Circleville Leaguers participated in the chapel choir during the Sunday morning services.

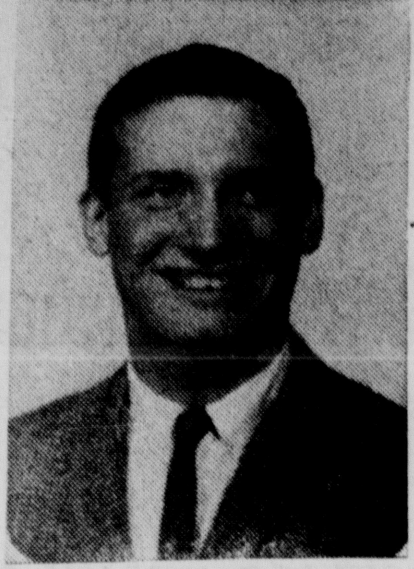

Transportation to and from the convention was provided by parents of those attending. Ginger Young was appointed delegate for the Senior Luther League, and Sue Gutatz served as Junior League delegate.

During this convention the group was able to participate in stimulating discussions. Inspiration mounted in the large assemblies and also in the smaller dormitory-floor devotion gatherings. Many youths served as leaders of interest discussion groups and as members of planning committees. All Leaguers made many new friends and look forward with great enthusiasm to future meetings.

Motor Blaze Checked By Fire Department

Circleville Firemen were called to the Eshelman Mill at 2:15 a. m. today to check a blaze caused by an electric motor.

Firemen said the motor operated a crumbler which apparently became choked. They said several belts were damaged.

David Thomas Will Attend EUB Session

David Thomas, 526 E. Mound St., will be one of 33 young people appointed to represent the Ohio Southeast Conference of the EUB Church at a Denominational Youth Convocation at Estes Park, Colo.

The local delegate is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernal Thomas. He will serve as a workgroup leader at the convocation.

The young people, representative of the 15 to 20 age group, will depart Friday from East Linden EUB Church in Columbus.

Other delegates will be from Marietta, Portsmouth, Logan, Lancaster, Chillicothe, Columbus, Westerville and Newark.

The Colorado Conference will be the first youth convocation of its type in the EUB Church and will attract some 1,500 delegates.

One of the major points of the conference will be to re-study completely the age bracket of youth work and to develop a new department for young adults in the high school and college-age bracket (18 to 24).

Also to be considered will be re-organization of the program for the younger group from 12 to 18. General theme will be "Is He Really Lord of All?"

Accompanying the group from Columbus will be the Rev. Delbert Krumm of East Linden Church, director of youth work in the Ohio Southeast Conference, and two other adult leaders, the Rev. David Davis, his assistant, of Newark, and Mrs. Mary Mullenix, also of Newark.

A fellowship orientation night is scheduled Thursday night at the East Linden Church.

Voter Eligibility on Coming Wheat Referendum Explained

Eligible wheat producers in Pickaway County were urged today to cast their ballots in the national wheat marketing quota referendum by Galen D. Mowery, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. The vote is set for Aug. 30.

Growers eligible to vote in the referendum will be those who produce more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1963 in any of the 39 commercial wheat States.

However, any producers who signed applications under the feed wheat provisions permitting them to grow wheat for use as feed on the farm for 1962 will not be eligible to vote in the referendum on quotas for the 1963 crop, Mowery pointed out.

At least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum must approve marketing quotas if they are to become effective.

IN GENERAL, the 1963 wheat program which will be in effect under existing legislation provides for farm acreage allotments set on the basis of a minimum national wheat allotment of 55 million acres. The minimum price support would be at a national average of $1.82 per bushel (75 per cent of parity) under a quota program. Marketing quota penalties would apply to the "excess" wheat of growers with more than 15 acres of wheat who did not comply with their acreage allotments.

If farmers disapprove marketing quotas, there would be no restrictions on wheat marketing in 1963. However, under the law, acreage allotments would remain in effect and would be used to determine eligibility for price support at the 50-per cent-of-parity rate required by law if quotas are not approved.

Under this rate, the national average price support for wheat would be about $1.21 per bushel. However, farmers who choose not to stay within their acreage allotments would not be eligible for price support.

Crash Kills OSU Professor

COALVILLE, Utah (AP) — An automobile accident has ended the life of Shepard Liverant, 34, Ohio State University associate professor of psychology who was a campus storm center last spring.

Liverant was faculty adviser last spring to an Ohio State campus group. Students for Liberal Action (SLA), when a dispute erupted between the university chapter of the American Association of University Professors and the administration.

The controversy arose after Liverant independently approved a campus appearance, at an SLA meeting, of a team of speakers opposing the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

University President Novice G. Fawcett then canceled the appearance the day it was to have been made.

Space Mystery Believed Solved

Particles Seen in Orbit May Be Snowflakes

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Space scientists were told Tuesday there is considerable evidence indicating most of the mysterious particles observed by astronauts John H. Glenn Jr. and Malcolm Scott Carpenter were snowflakes.

Dr. John A. O'Keefe, Greenbelt, Md., also said photographs taken during Carpenter's May 24 orbital flight indicate some of the particles were very considerably brighter than the moon.

O'Keefe, assistant chief of the theoretical division of the Goddard Space Flight Center, discussed the particles at a conference at which the manned spacecraft center presented a formal report on the Carpenter flight.

O'Keefe said the particles seen on the May 24 flight appeared to emanate from the capsule and that plausible sources were snow formed by condensation of steam from the life support system and from small particles of dust-waste and bits of insulation.

"There is considerable evidence which points to snow as the source of the majority of the material," he said. "In the first place, water is dumped out of the spacecraft in far larger quantities than any other substance. In the second place, the material looked like snowflakes, both to Glenn and to Carpenter. In the third place, the frequency with which the particles are reported by Carpenter appears to be correlated with the temperature of the exterior of the spacecraft."

O'Keefe said an improvised experiment made by Carpenter shortly before re-entry supports the theory that particles came from the spacecraft. Carpenter struck the walls of the spacecraft with his hand.

The blows promptly resulted in the liberation of large numbers of particles, O'Keefe said.

Unions Seen Opposing Blue Law Change

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cecil B. Dunlap, president of AFL-CIO Retail Store Employees Local 880, predicts labor unions throughout the state will wage a campaign to defeat the Lawson Milk Co.'s proposed amendment to the Ohio Sunday closing law.

He threw the support of his 9,000-member union Tuesday behind the Cleveland Retail Merchants Board in its fight to kill the Lawson amendment.

William Howlett, president of Lawson's, said, "The people will act for themselves at the polls."

"They will vote on the basis of their requirements," he added. "The amendment only attempts to define what is unanimously service requirements."

John P. Murphy, chairman of the Retail Merchants Board, said the board was behind the Voters Information Committee which is now preparing to launch a statewide drive against the proposed amendment.

"We believe the great majority of the people in this area and Ohio do not want Sunday business," Murphy said. "If the Lawson amendment would pass, and I'm sure it won't, it would open the door for all kinds of business on Sunday."

Dunlap said unions were opposed to their members working on Sunday, adding: "We don't want our living habits changed."

Sandusky Bay Bridge Bids Are Opened

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Highway Department received today an apparent low bid of $4,794,793 for the first phase of a new bridge across Sandusky Bay.

The new bridge, it is estimated, will cost a total of $7.25 million. It will be located west of the present bay bridge, a two-lane causeway with a drawbridge in the middle. The present bridge has a capacity of only 6,000 vehicles a day and creates a bottleneck, especially on summer weekends when resort area traffic is heavy.

Illiterate Gets Term for Forgery

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A man who can't read or write has been sentenced to two years in prison for forgery.

Judge Jack A. Falk sentenced Willie Robinson, 29, after hearing testimony from Lonnie Armstrong, 37, who said Robinson talked him into drawing up a few checks just to see how it was done.

Armstrong said he thought all the practice checks were destroyed, but Robinson apparently held out a few, endorsed them with an "X" and cashed them. Armstrong was sentenced to two years on probation.

Football Prayer Period Opposed by Clergymen

ROCKDALE, Tex. (AP) — The ministers of Rockdale have gone on record as being opposed to mass prayers at the beginning of high school football games.

The Rev. Frank Buechley, pastor of the First Christian church and president of the Rockdale Ministerial Association, said the association had voted to discontinue participation in pre-game prayers.

"It wasn't a conducive atmosphere for that type of thing," he said. "There is a time to pray and a time to play."

ering of Eagles," with Rock Hudson and Rod Taylor.

The movie almost didn't get made, Bartlett remarked.

"It took the recommendation of Gen. Curtis LeMay and President Kennedy himself to get it past the Pentagon brass," the producer said.

There was a time when the services were falling over each other to extend cooperation to film makers on films extolling the glories of the particular branches. What happened?

It was the second coming of D-Day that did it. Darryl Zanuck borrowed American troops and equipment to help stage "The Longest Day." Congressmen got wind of this and started a barrage against such use of American fighting men.

"It's ridiculous," complained Bartlett. "The only thing they want to know now is: How will the movie benefit the taxpayers? So we had to explain how it would show the taxpayers what they are getting for their money."

"It would also demonstrate the system of positive control to those who fear that a war can be started through error. And it would show in a very graphic way to the Russians why they would be foolish to start anything."

Even after such arguments, Bartlett received no concessions in filming of his picture. He was told he could proceed—but personnel and equipment could not be used for anything beside their regular duties.

"That kind of ruling would eliminate almost every kind of service picture," the producer declared. "Fortunately, we were able to go ahead because SAC is in daily maneuvers which we could photograph."

Bartlett is a champion of the service film not merely because he makes many of them. He thinks they do a good selling job for the United States at home and abroad.

Titan III To Excel Soviet Boosters

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said Tuesday "I think we will not be able to match" the Soviet twin orbiting of cosmonauts until the United States has bigger boosters.

But he told newsmen that the new, Titan III booster, for which a contract was awarded Monday, would have two to three times—closer to three—the thrust of the launching boosters used now by the Soviet Union.

About $800 million will be spent for development of the Titan booster, he said.

In reply to questions by the newsmen, McNamara said:

1. He talked to Air Force experts this morning about a report that the two Russian space vehicles joined together at one point in their flight and the answer of the Air Force experts "was definitely no."

He said that data is not yet available to show conclusively how close they came to one another. In a Moscow news conference, today the Soviet cosmonauts said their closest approach to each other was about three miles.

A report that the Soviets brought their craft together was published by Aviation Week magazine.

2. The latest Soviet demonstration in space will not directly influence a change in military space spending in the next 1964 fiscal year. But "Let me hasten to add we have not accomplished what they have; we are behind in large space boosters." The fiscal 1964 program, like that for the current year, is designed to overcome "the deficiencies."

3. He would assume that the Russians, too, are seeking to develop boosters bigger than those used now in their space shots.

4. A question was asked about reports that the Soviet Union now may have the means to neutralize U.S. missile operations. McNamara's reply was "I see no immediate possibility of the Soviets being in any way able to restrict operations of the U.S. missile systems."

Union Chief Raps 'Academic Nitwits'

WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany said

McNara's reply was "I see no immediate possibility of the Soviets being in any way able to restrict operations of the U.S. missile systems."

5. It has been apparent for some time that the Soviets use boosters far stronger than ours, so that the twin satellite feat "did not surprise us." But, he added, "it is important to recognize" that the Soviet boosters now are far larger than ours.

Tuesday "academic nitwits" who believe the cause of peace can be advanced by cultural exchanges with the Soviet Union should visit the Berlin wall.

"That's where you see Soviet culture as it really is," Meany said. "You see it nakedly exposed—the real thing in all its brutal inhumanity."

Meany spoke to the convention. He said that those who think that cultural exchanges with Russia will help settle the cold war are "living in a fool's paradise."

Sandusky Bay Bridge Bids Are Opened

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Highway Department received today an apparent low bid of $4,794,793 for the first phase of a new bridge across Sandusky Bay.

The apparent low bid for the causeway portion of the bridge was submitted by Peter Kiewit & Sons Co., Omaha, Neb. The state estimate for the huge fill to accommodate four lanes of traffic on Ohio 2 across the bay was $4,769,800, about $25,000 higher than the state estimate.

The new bridge, it is estimated, will cost a total of $7.25 million. It will be located west of the present bay bridge, a two-lane causeway with a drawbridge in the middle. The present bridge has a capacity of only 6,000 vehicles a day and creates a bottleneck, especially on summer weekends when resort area traffic is heavy.

The contract on which bids were opened today includes more than 2.7 miles of fill in water which averages 10 feet in depth. In a second contract to be let later at an estimated cost of $2.5 million, provision will be made for a 1,900 foot main bridge high enough to permit passage of the big lake boats.

The only other major project on which bids were opened today involved slightly more than 3 1/2 miles of Interstate 70 in Perry Township, Muskingum County. The interstate highway will be a relocated version of U. S. 40.

Against a state estimate of $4,845,400, S. J. Groves and Son of Minneapolis bid $3,735,893.

Interstate 71 Contracts To Be Let Soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Highway Director E. S. Preston says contracts will be let this year that will insure motorists complete freeway driving between Columbus and Cincinnati by 1964.

Preston said all remaining segments of the Southwestern Ohio leg of Interstate 71, the North-South Freeway, will be placed under contract this year.

The new work on Interstate 71, coupled with extension of the Cincinnati Circle Freeway from U.S. 42 to I-71 and from I-71 to U.S. 22, will cost $72 million, he said. Only the Northeast Freeway in Cincinnati will remain to be finished, but in the meantime a freeway connection to downtown Cincinnati will be available in the Mill Creek Expressway.

Thirteen interchanges have been approved along the 76-mile portion of Interstate 71 involved in the new contracts: the Circle Freeway, King's Mills Road, relocated Ohio 48, Ohio 123, Wilmsburg, Ohio 56 and U.S. 62-Ohio 3.

Ohio Power Asks Delay in Ironton Case

NEW YORK (AP)—The 600-foot-high smokestack of the Ohio Power Co. has been considering erecting near Ironton, Ohio, evidently has faded farther into the future. With it fades the possibility of a big generating plant.

The Federal Aviation Agency reports that a hearing scheduled here, requested by the power firm based in Canton, Ohio, has now been indefinitely postponed at the company's request. It had been scheduled for today.

The hearing would have been necessary because the smokestack at Hanging Rock, would be directly across the Ohio River from a small Kentucky airport, possibly creating a hazard.

The FAA said Ohio Power gave no reason for asking postponement.

The recent application by the company raised speculation that it planned to build a large electric generating plant on its property at the riverside site. But Ohio Power at the time stressed that by seeking clearance for the smokestack it did not necessarily plan actual construction in the near future.

Teacher Police Law Is Urged

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The Legislative Committee of the Ohio Education Association advocates presenting a bill to the legislature giving the teaching profession in ranks as the law and medical professions do.

The proposal presented Tuesday by the 19-member committee calls for establishing a Professional Practices Commission comparable to those in Kentucky and other states.

The committee voted to recommend to the Executive Committee that the question of a Professional Practices Commission be placed before the OEA's representative assembly meeting in Columbus Nov. 30.

John H. Hall, director of public affairs for the OEA, said if the proposal gets majority support from the representative assembly a bill would be drafted for presentation to the legislature, probably next year.

Interstate 71 Contracts To Be Let Soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Highway Director E. S. Preston says contracts will be let this year that will insure motorists complete freeway driving between Columbus and Cincinnati by 1964.

Preston said all remaining segments of the Southwestern Ohio leg of Interstate 71, the North-South Freeway, will be placed under contract this year.

The new work on Interstate 71, coupled with extension of the Cincinnati Circle Freeway from U.S. 42 to I-71 and from I-71 to U.S. 22, will cost $72 million, he said. Only the Northeast Freeway in Cincinnati will remain to be finished, but in the meantime a freeway connection to downtown Cincinnati will be available in the Mill Creek Expressway.

Thirteen interchanges have been approved along the 76-mile portion of Interstate 71 involved in the new contracts: the Circle Freeway, King's Mills Road, relocated Ohio 48, Ohio 123, Wilm-38, Ohio 56 and U. S. 62-Ohio 3.

An additional interchange at Fields-Ertel along the Hamilton-Warren County line has been requested from the Bureau of Public Roads.

Ohio Power Asks Delay in Ironton Case

NEW YORK (AP) — The 600-foot-high smokestack the Ohio Power Co. has been considering erecting near Ironton, Ohio, evidently has faded farther into the future. With it fades the possibility of a big generating plant.

The Federal Aviation Agency reports that a hearing scheduled here, requested by the power firm based in Canton, Ohio, has now been indefinitely postponed at the company's request. It had been scheduled for today.

The hearing would have been necessary because the smokestack at Hanging Rock, would be directly across the Ohio River from a small Kentucky airport, possibly creating a hazard.

The FAA said Ohio Power gave no reason for asking postponement.

The recent application by the company raised speculation that it planned to build a large electric generating plant on its property at the riverside site. But Ohio Power at the time stressed that by seeking clearance for the smokestack it did not necessarily plan actual construction in the near future.

Teacher Police Law Is Urged

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The Legislative Committee of the Ohio Education Association advocates presenting a bill to the legislature giving the teaching profession in ranks as the law and medical professions do.

The proposal presented Tuesday by the 19-member committee calls for establishing a Professional Practices Commission comparable to those in Kentucky and other states.

The committee voted to recommend to the Executive Committee that the question of a Professional Practices Commission be placed before the OEA's representative assembly meeting in Columbus Nov. 30.

John H. Hall, director of public affairs for the OEA, said if the proposal gets majority support from the representative assembly a bill would be drafted for presentation to the legislature, probably next year.

Vote on Poll Tax Set for Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House leadership will try next Monday for a vote on a proposed amendment to the Constitution prohibiting the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections.

Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said Monday the proposed amendment will be called up under a procedure requiring a favorable vote of two-thirds of the House members present.

The bill has been lodged in the House Rules Committee since the Senate passed it March 27.

Five states now impose taxes on registered voters. They are Virginia, Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi and Texas. If passed by Congress the amendment would have to be ratified by 38 of the 50 states to become effective.

Redlegs Ask Trial Delay

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Crosley Foundation and President Bill DeWitt of the Cincinnati Reds want to delay before answering a suit seeking to void DeWitt's purchase of the team.

Attorneys for the foundation and DeWitt filed for the delay Tuesday in Common Pleas Court.

The University of Cincinnati and the Cincinnati YMCA earlier asked to be relieved as parties to the suit because they were given stock in the old Cincinnati Baseball Club Co. by the foundation. They said they were unwilling parties to the suit.

The foundation and DeWitt asked to defer their answer to the suit until the court has ruled on the action by the University and YMCA.

DeWitt bought the team from the foundation, but Ohio Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy filed suit to block the sale.

A hearing on the requests of the university and the YMCA is scheduled Oct. 11.

American Grid Loop Starts Paring Established Veterans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The American Football League's maturity is beginning to show, and it is costing some of its jobs.

All AFL teams had to pare down to 43 players Tuesday and the league's coaches, four of whom are new in their jobs, discarded a player's experience as a prime requisite for keeping a job.

Oakland, which won only two games a year ago, cut 2-year veteran Tom Londerback, a line-backer, Willie Smith, a starting guard a year ago, and tackle Al Bansavage, a reserve line-backer last year.

The Raiders also placed End Bob Coolbaugh and rookie line-backer Joel Walenta on the injured reserve list. Coolbaugh has a broken leg and Walenta a cracked rib.

The New York Titans, another of the AFL's weaker clubs, cut line-backer Ted Greene, defensive end Paul Miller and defensive halfback Johnny Bookman. Greene and Miller were obtained from Dallas in a trade and all three had seen service last year.

Defensive end Gary Wisener, a 2-year pro veteran, was released by Houston, as was 4-year veteran Opie Bandy.

The Boston Patriots cut veteran lineman John Simerson. He has been hampered by a knee injury since last season, and was one of five cut Tuesday by Coach Mike Holovak. The others were defensive back John Parrinello, halfbacks Clarence Mason and Don Christman and tackle Tom Chandler.

In the National Football League the Los Angeles Rams also found themselves talent-rich in linemen, something they've been needing for the past five years. Four of their first five draft choices were linemen in the past college draft, and they signed all four.

With a marked improvement in the offensive and defensive lines in two exhibition victories, Los Angeles dealt John Cornett, their No. 3 draft choice from Rice, to the Dallas Cowboys for an undisclosed draft choice.

The San Francisco 49ers also dealt rookie offensive ends John Burrell of Rice and Dan Coffey of Memphis State to Pittsburgh, also for an undisclosed draft choice.

The Detroit Lions cut rookies Jim Davidson of Maryland, a back, and Karl Anderson of Bowling Green, an offensive tackle.

Havlicek Is Cut From Browns' '11'

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns of the National Football league today cut former Ohio State basketball star John Havlicek and two other prospects from the squad.

Also dropped from the roster were End Ron Meyers of Villanova and tackle Ed Stute of Ohio University.

Royal Mac Spencer Wins Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Royal Mac Spencer won Tuesday night's featured $1,000 handicap pace at Scioto Downs with a 2:04 1-5 mile. He returned $6.20.

Foggy Night paid $7.60 and third place Peter Rabbit was worth $3.40.

Vern Alexander, a 6-foot, 201-pound tackle on the University of Arizona football team, is majoring in horticulture.

All-Star Unit Nails Victory At Chillicothe

The Circleville Little League All-Stars defeated the Frankfort All-Stars, 2-0, at Chillicothe behind the three-hit pitching of Rickey Congrove.

Congrove gave up two singles in the bottom of the first with none out, but then bore down to strike out 12 consecutive batters. He went on to register 21 strikeouts. He walked only one and gave up only one hit after the first inning.

Circleville scored its first run in the top of the fourth when Tommy Wright walked, then stole second, third and home. In the sixth inning Bob Tootle drew a free pass, stole second and third, and came home on Mike Melson's single to right.

Melson's single and Bob Wallis's ground rule double were the only hits Circleville could manage off Frankfort pitching.

GIBSON, losing hurler, fanned 17, walked five and gave up only two hits. Circleville played errorless ball and Frankfort made one miscue.

The All-Stars play Greenfield Printing Saturday at 4 p. m. If they win Saturday they play Sunday at 4 p. m. against Clay Township, which is located southeast of Portsmouth. All games will be played at the Scioto Valley little league diamond.

Circleville now has a 1-1 record in the double elimination tournament.

Rose Bowl Pact Signed

CHICAGO (AP)—The Rose Bowl, granddaddy of all New Year's Day football bowl games, again has become an official family affair between the Big Ten and the Athletic Association of Western Universities.

They formally certified a continuous contract Tuesday whereby the Big Ten's "most representative" team will appear in the Pasadena classic yearly against the AAUW champion. The West Coast group is made up of Southern California, UCLA, California, Stanford, Washington and Washington State.

The "open end" pact, similar to the one the Big Ten had with the Pacific Coast Conference before its demise in 1960, requires that cancellation by either party be on such a date which would permit two more games to be played.

The Big Ten will continue to enforce its rule that no team can appear twice in succession.

Jets Decision Richmond, 3-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two years ago, Pancho Herrera won the International League's triple crown — batting, runs batted in and home runs. It earned him a season with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Now he's back in Buffalo, up to his old tricks again.

Tuesday night the Bisons won a 15-inning, 7-6 marathon from Rochester on John Herrstein's home run. But Herrera was the big man, batting in five runs on two homers.

In other action, the Columbus Jets ran their winning streak to six with a 3-2 decision over Richmond, Toronto edged Syracuse 5-4 and Jacksonville downed Atlanta 6-3.

Orlando McFarlane hit a homer for the Jets and Mike Mathiesen hit one for Richmond. But the winning run in the sixth inning was a gift. Pedro Gonzales booted Willie Stargell's grounder. Stargell advanced to third base on the next two outs and scored when Joe Pipitone bobbled John Powers' hopper.

Tribe Loses Again; Tigers Romp, 10-1

DETROIT (AP)—The needle is getting worn, but that broken record keeps playing on and on for the Cleveland Indians.

The Indians lost another one Tuesday night — to the Detroit Tigers. This time Jim Bunning (13-8) chalked up his 100th major league triumph with a 10-1 decision.

Bunning surrendered a homer to Al Luplow, the rookie's 11th of the season, then proceeded to blank Cleveland the rest of the way, spinning a four-hitter.

Meanwhile, the Tigers got some lusty hitting from Dick McAuliffe, Steve Boros, Dick Brown and Al Kaline, who had singled Ty-second of his three hits to drive in a run.

Boros slammed a two-run homer in the fifth, scoring ahead of McAuliffe, who had singled Ty-river was the victim and was soaked hard in the sixth when Detroit added three more runs.

Dick Donovan (15-7) faces Ron Kline (3-5) in today's game.

Redlegs Ask Trial Delay

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Croyley Foundation and President Bill DeWitt of the Cincinnati Reds want to delay before answering a suit seeking to void DeWitt's purchase of the team.

Attorneys for the foundation and DeWitt filed for the delay Tuesday in Common Pleas Court.

The University of Cincinnati and the Cincinnati YMCA earlier asked to be relieved as parties to the suit because they were given stock in the old Cincinnati Baseball Club Co. by the foundation. They said they were unwilling parties to the suit.

The foundation and DeWitt asked to defer their answer to the suit until the court has ruled on the action by the University and YMCA.

DeWitt bought the team from the foundation, but Ohio Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy filed suit to block the sale.

A hearing on the requests of the university and the YMCA is scheduled Oct. 11.

Pittsburgh is the oldest opponent on the 1962 Penn State football schedule. The Nittany Lions and the Panthers have been meeting since 1893.

Glenn Killinger, an All-American halfback at Penn State in 1921, is now dean of men and director of athletics at West Chester (Pa.) State College.

American Grid Loop Starts Paring Established Veterans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two years ago, Pancho Herrera won the International League's triple crown — batting, runs batted in and home runs. It earned him a season with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Now he's back in Buffalo, up to his old tricks again. Tuesday night the Bisons won a 15-inning, 7-6 marathon from Rochester on John Herrstein's home run. But Herrera was the big man, batting in five runs on two homers.

In other action, the Columbus Jets ran their winning streak to six with a 3-2 decision over Richmond, Toronto edged Syracuse 5-4 and Jacksonville downed Atlanta 6-3.

Orlando McFarlane hit a homer for the Jets and Mike Mathiesen hit one for Richmond. But the winning run in the sixth inning was a gift. Pedro Gonzales booted Willie Stargell's grounder. Stargell advanced to third base on the next two outs and scored when Joe Pipitone bobbled John Powers' hopper.

The Detroit Lions cut rookies Jim Davidson of Maryland, a back, and Karl Anderson of Bowling Green, an offensive tackle.

The Raiders also placed End Bob Coolbaugh and rookie line-backer Joel Walenta on the injured reserve list. Coolbaugh has a broken leg and Walenta a cracked rib.

The New York Titans, another of the AFL's weaker clubs, cut line-backer Ted Greene, defensive end Paul Miller and defensive halfback Johnny Bookman.

Greene and Miller were obtained from Dallas in a trade and all three had seen service last year.

Defensive end Gary Wisener, a 2-year pro veteran, was released by Houston, as was 4-year veteran Opie Bandy.

The Boston Patriots cut veteran lineman John Simerson. He has been hampered by a knee injury since last season, and was one of five cut Tuesday by Coach Mike Holovak. The others were defensive back John Parrinello, halfbacks Clarence Mason and Don Christman and tackle Tom Chandler.

In the National Football League the Los Angeles Rams also found themselves talent-rich in linemen, something they've been needing for the past five years. Four of their first five draft choices were linemen in the past college draft, and they signed all four.

With a marked improvement in the offensive and defensive lines in two exhibition victories, Los Angeles dealt John Cornett, their No. 3 draft choice from Rice, to the Dallas Cowboys for an undisclosed draft choice.

The San Francisco 49ers also dealt rookie offensive ends John Burrell of Rice and Dan Coffey of Memphis State to Pittsburgh, also for an undisclosed draft choice.

All-Star Unit Nails Victory At Chillicothe

The Circleville Little League All-Stars defeated the Frankfort All-Stars, 2-0, at Chillicothe behind the three-hit pitching of Rick Congrove.

Congrove gave up two singles in the bottom of the first with none out, but then bore down to strike out 12 consecutive batters. He went on to register 21 strikeouts. He walked only one and gave up only one hit after the first inning.

Circleville scored its first run in the top of the fourth when Tommy Wright walked, then stole second, third and home. In the sixth inning Bob Tootle drew a free pass, stole second and third, and came home on Mike Melson's single to right.

Melson's single and Bob Wallisa's ground rule double were the only hits Circleville could manage off Frankfort pitching.

GIBSON, losing hurler, fanned 17, walked five and gave up only two hits. Circleville played errorless ball and Frankfort made one miscue.

The All-Stars play Greenfield Printing Saturday at 4 p. m. If they win Saturday they play Sunday at 4 p. m. against Clay Township, which is located southeast of Portsmouth. All games will be played at the Scioto Valley little league diamond.

Circleville now has a 1-1 record in the double elimination tournament.

Rose Bowl Pact Signed

CHICAGO (AP) — The Rose Bowl, granddaddy of all New Year's Day football bowl games, again has become an official family affair between the Big Ten and the Athletic Association of Western Universities.

They formally certified a continuous contract Tuesday whereby the Big Ten's "most representative" team will appear in the Pasadena classic yearly against the AAWU champion. The West Coast group is made up of Southern California, UCLA, California, Stanford, Washington and Washington State.

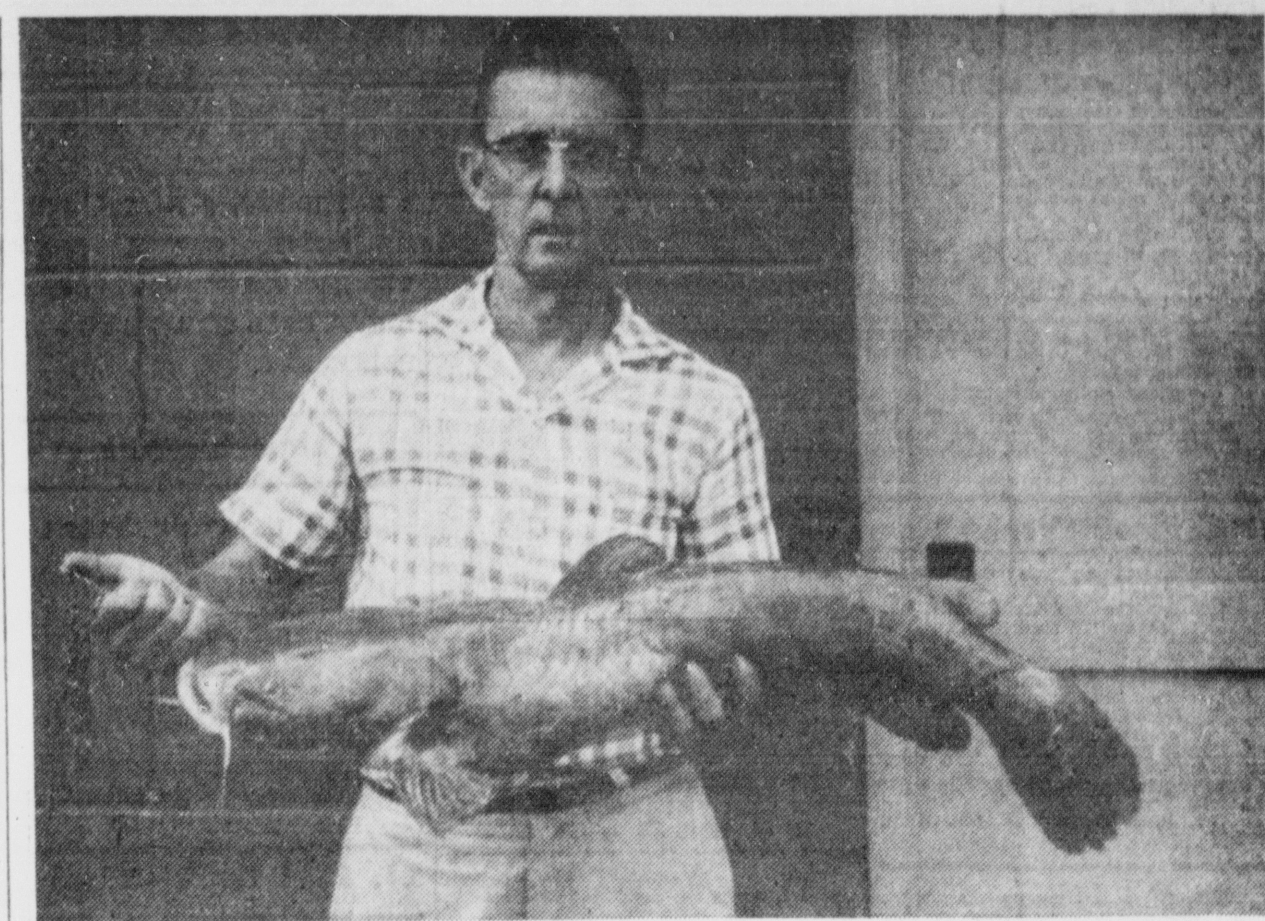

The "open end" pact, similar to the one the Big Ten had with the Pacific Coast Conference before its demise in 1960, requires that cancellation by either party be on such a date which would permit two more games to be played.

The Big Ten will continue to enforce its rule that no team can appear twice in succession.

PCC Lady Golfers Set Golf Luncheon

The Ladies Golf League at the Pickaway Country Club will sponsor lunch and golf Thursday at PCC Tuesday.

Golf activities will start at 9 a. m. and lunch will be served at noon. Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Ben Gordon, GR 4-2625 or by calling the country club before Aug. 24.

ROD AND REEL CATCH — Gerald Majors, 489 E. Franklin St., landed this whopper catfish with a rod and reel yesterday at Darby Creek. It required about 20 minutes to land the near 18-pound dandy which went for Majors' soft craw bait. Majors said he believed this is the catfish which managed to get away from him several times in the past. (Staff Photo)

Tribe Loses Again; Tigers Romp, 10-1

DETROIT (AP)—The needle is getting worn, but that broken record keeps playing on and on for the Cleveland Indians.

The Indians lost another one Tuesday night — to the Detroit Tigers. This time Jim Bunning (13-8) chalked up his 100th major league triumph with a 10-1 decision.

Bunning surrendered a homer to Al Luplow, the rookie's 11th of the season, then proceeded to blank Cleveland the rest of the way, spinning a four-hitter.

Meanwhile, the Tigers got some lusty hitting from Dick McAuliffe, Steve Boros, Dick Brown and Al Kaline and battered Jim Perry (9-10) and rookie Dave Tyrivier. Detroit had 14 hits.

The Indians now have lost 32 of their last 44 games.

Perry ran into trouble early in the game when the Tigers poured across four runs in the first inning.

Perry gave up an unearned run in the fourth frame. Chico Fernandez beat out a hit to deep short and Kaline delivered the second of his three hits to drive in a run. Boros slammed a two-run homer in the fifth, scoring ahead of McAuliffe, who had singled. Tyrivier was the victim and was socked hard in the sixth when Detroit added three more runs. Dick Donovan (15-7) faces Ron Kline (3-5) in today's game.

Another defensive end is rookie Frank Parker, a 252-pound 6' 5" stalwart from Broken Bow, Okla. The Browns are blessed with a flock of offensive ends, several of them newcomers but some must be cut soon. Brown is taking a look at all of them in the exhibitions, before deciding which will be trade bait in an attempt to bolster some of the not-so-deep spots.

But the big thing is that "Precision Paul" is grinning a bit over the 1962 prospects. And that should be warning enough for the rest of the loop, for to Brown, football isn't a laughing matter.

Jim Maloney Helps Redlegs Keep in Running

One-Time Shortstop
Chalks 4-Hitter in Shutout over Cubs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Round about June, Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson had a perplexing mathematical problem. No matter how he added things up, his search for a fourth starter invariably left him with three. Then Hutch had a hunch—Jim Maloney.

It's August, the defending champion Reds have pulled to within five games of National League-leading Los Angeles and are only 1½ back of second-place San Francisco. One of the major reasons—Jim Maloney.

A right-hander who originally started in the Cincinnati organization as a shortstop, Maloney continued his fine hurling Tuesday with a four-hit job while Marty Keough's two-run inside-the-park homer provided the support for a 2-0 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

It was the fourth consecutive triumph for Maloney, who has solved Hutch's pitching problem by joining Bob Purkey (19-4), Joey Jay (18-10) and Jim O'Toole (13-13) as the Reds' big four. Maloney now is 8-4 and has allowed only six runs in his last four starts—an amazing .164 earned run average.

Keough, meanwhile, took over where the Reds' big hitters—Frank Robinson, Vada Pinson and Gordie Coleman—failed against Don Cardwell. The 28-year-old utilityman, acquired from Washington and hitting at a .288 clip, stroked the game-winner in the eighth inning after a single by Leo Cardenas.

The triumph was the Reds' 14th in the last 17 games and moved them another step closer to the Dodgers and Giants, who were both idle Tuesday.

In other action, Milwaukee edged St. Louis 6-5 in 10 innings. Pittsburgh extended New York's losing streak to 13 games with an 8-6 triumph in the opener of a doubleheader before the Mets came back to win 5-4. Art Mahaffey got Philadelphia off to a sweep over Houston with a 5-3 first-game triumph for his 17th victory. The Phils made it 15 in a row without a loss over the Colts by winning the nightcap 7-4.

In the American League, the first-place New York Yankees increased their edge to five games with an 11-4, 10-inning victory over the Los Angeles Angels. Minnesota whipped Washington 5-2. Detroit walloped Cleveland 10-1. Baltimore belted the Chicago White Sox 9-1 and Boston outslugged Kansas City 11-6.

The Cards tied it in the ninth on a run-producing bloop single by Charlie James, but the Braves came up with the winner in the 10th on a double by pinch hitter Joe Torre and a two-out single by Lee Maye. Earlier, Tommie Aaron homered for the Braves while brother Hank extended his hitting streak to 21 games.

Gene Oliver homered for St. Louis. The winner was Claude Raymond (5-2), who has saved nine games since joining the club June 28. Don Ferrarese (1-4) was the loser.

The Pirates came up with four runs in the ninth inning of the opener—three on a throwing error by third baseman Felix Mantilla—to beat the Mets and Roger Craig (7-20). Reliever Diomedes Olivo (4-1), who singled across the fourth run, got the victory.

In the nightcap, Marv Throneberry came out of the coaching box and tagged a two-out, three-run, pinch-hit homer that enabled the Mets to snap their second longest losing streak of the year. Robert G. Miller (2-1) was the winner with Elroy Face (8-5) the loser.

Mahaffey (17-10) was touched for seven Houston hits, one more than the Phils got in the opener but led all the way after a three-run Philadelphia first. Bob Bruce (7-8) gave up two walks and hit a batter in the inning with Don Demeter's looping single the only hit.

In the second game, consecutive home runs by Johnny Callison and Roy Sievers moved the Phils out front to stay in the first inning.

Callison went 4-for-4 in support of Jack Hamilton (7-11), who gave up homers to Jim Campbell and Carl Warwick. Jim Golden (5-11) lost it.

Beatty Lowers His U.S. Mark for Running Mile

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—Jim Beatty, the Los Angeles Flyer, ran the mile in 3 minutes, 56.3 seconds Tuesday — fastest time for the distance by an American.

It marked the second time in a week that the former North Carolina runner had lowered the mile record for an American citizen.

Last Saturday in White City Stadium in London he clocked 3:56.5 in a race in which five runners broke the four-minute barrier.

Beatty's medulla (the portion of the brain at the back of the neck) was bruised, causing the hemorrhage. Reese said the face guard attached to the boy's helmet evidently pushed upward, and, with the chin strap acting as a fulcrum, the hard edge of the back of the headgear pressed on his neck.

Reese noted that the helmet's padding does not extend to the edge and said this probably cost the boy's life. The coroner's investigator called high school coaches in the area to the autopsy to point out the effect.

Milwaukee and San Francisco set a major league record when their nine-inning game on June 22 required four hours and two minutes. Two days later the same teams played a game in one hour and 49 minutes.
